PUBLIC INCOME AND EXPENDITURE.

RETURN to an Order of the Honourable The House of Commons, dated 2 June 1836;—for,

AN ACCOUNT of the PUBLIC INCOME and EXPENDITURE of the UNITED KINGDOM in the Years ended 5th January 1834, 1835 and 1836; showing the ACTUAL EXPENSE incurred in the Collection and Management of the REVENUE; the YEARLY CHARGE of DEBT (the Terminable Annuities being valued by Estimate); the EXPENSES of the CIVIL GOVERNMENT; the ALLOWANCES to the ROYAL FAMILY, and to his Royal Highness PRINCE LEOPOLD; the ESTABLISHMENT of the LORD LIEUTENANT of Ireland; the EXPENDITURE of the Two Houses of PARLIAMENT, and the CIVIL DEPARTMENTS; the other Pensions on the Consolidated Fund or the Gross Revenue, and the Civil List: Also, the PAYMENTS, CHARGES or SUMS voted for the Administration of Justice; DIPLOMATIC EXPENSES, and the SUMS voted for ARMY, NAVY and ORDNANCE SERVICES: Also, PUBLIC WORKS' BOUNTIES, POST-OFFICE, the QUARANTINE and WAREHOUSING ESTABLISHMENTS; and all other Expenses not coming under any of the foregoing Heads.

Mem.—In the present Account, the same Classification has been observed as was prescribed in the Orders of The House of Commons for the former Accounts of the same nature; but as those Accounts, prior to the Return in the last year (No. 302), were prepared, partly from actual Payments and partly from Estimates, and as they will not in a series of years, when so prepared, be found correct, owing to the occasional Savings on the Estimates, the present Account has been prepared from actual Payments only; thereby agreeing in its principle and its Totals with the annual balanced Finance Accounts, and differing from them only as to its Classification.

An APPENDIX has been subjoined to the Account, showing the several Items of which each Head in it is composed.

(Mr. Gillon.)

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,

cases where the term either for a life or lives, or years, for which any such annuity, rent or yearly payment may be granted, shall be subject to any contingency which may defeat the payment thereof, then the value given according to such tables, of a term either for such life or lives, or for years, as the case may be, not subject to any contingency, shall be deemed and taken as the value of such annuity, rent or yearly sum; and in all cases in which such annuity, rent or yearly sum shall be in fee simple or in perpetuity, the same shall be valued at and after the rate of twenty-five years' purchase thereon.
And where the consideration, or any part of the consideration, shall be any Stock in any of the Public Funds, or any Government Debenture, or Stock of the Bank of England or Bank of Ireland, or any Debenture or Stock of any Corporation, Company, Society, or persons or person, payable only at the will of the debtor, then the said Duty shall be calculated (taking the same respectively, whether constituting the whole or a part only of such consideration) according to the average selling price thereof respectively on the day, or on either of the ten days preceding the day of the date of the deed or instrument of conveyance; or if no sale shall have taken place within such ten days, then according to the average selling price thereof on the day of the last preceding sale; and if such consideration, or part of such consideration, shall be a mortgage, judgment or bond, or a debenture the amount whereof shall be recoverable by the holder, or any other security whatsoever, whether payable in money or otherwise, then such calculation shall be made according to the sum due thereon for both principal and interest.
And where any lands or other property of different tenures or holdings, or held under different titles, contracted to be sold at one entire price for the whole, shall be conveyed to the purchaser in separate parts or parcels by different deeds or instruments, the purchase or consideration money shall be divided and apportioned in such manner as the parties shall think fit; so that a distinct price or consideration for each separate part or parcel may be set forth in or upon the principal or only deed or instrument of conveyance relating thereto, which shall be charged with the said ad valorem Duty in respect of the price or consideration therein set forth.

And where any person, having contracted for the purchase of any lands or other property, but not having obtained a conveyance thereof, shall contract to sell the whole, or any part or parts thereof, to any other person or persons, and the same shall in consequence be conveyed by the original seller to different persons, in parts or parcels, the principal or only deed or instrument of conveyance of each part or parcel thereof shall be charged with the said ad valorem Duty in respect only of the purchase money or consideration which shall be therein mentioned to be paid or given, or agreed to be paid or given for the same, by the person or persons to whom or to whose use, or in trust for whom the conveyance shall be made, without regard to the amount of the original purchase money or consideration.

THE AMOUNT of NOTES in CIRCULATION in January 1826.

AS the Bank of Ireland pays a commuted sum, agreed upon annually between the Bank and the Treasury, in lieu of Stamp Duty on their Notes, there is no Record in the Books of this Department, from which the Amount of their Notes in Circulation in January 1826 can be obtained.

No record of the Amount of any of the other Bankers' Notes in circulation was made in this Office until 1828, when the Act 9 Geo. 4, c. 80, empowered Irish Bankers to compound for the Duties on their Notes. The Accounts of all previous years show only the number of Notes stamped and the Amount of Duties received on them; but these data would not show the Amount of Circulation in any year, and those for the year ended January 1826 would be particularly deceptive as to the circulation of that year, the Bankers having then supplied themselves with Stamped Notes of the Imperial Currency to replace those of Irish Currency in actual circulation, or lying in the hands of individuals, and these forming their own reserve.

(3.)—A RETURN of the Number of PRIVATE ASSAYS made at the KING'S ASSAY OFFICE in the MINT, in each of the last Fifteen Years, in Gold and Silver; stating the Rates of Charge made for each Assay in Gold and Silver to the Private Merchant or Bank, the Amount received for these Assays, and in what Manner the same was appropriated; with Copies of the Rules or Regulations of that Office for the Charges made for these Assays, in each of the same Fifteen Years.

1821	10,580	1,769	5/ each	2/6 each	£. s. d. 2,645 - -	£. s. d. 221 2 6	These assays, a return of which has now for the first time been ordered, have always been considered private, as well as the emoluments attached to them. They are paid for by individuals out of the Mint, and are made for the purpose of determining the value of an ingot of gold or silver, to effect its sale through the medium of a bullion broker. Some of these ingots never come to the Mint, others come after various intervals of time. These private assays are merely the result of the character of the King's Assayer for skill and strict impartiality, and are never allowed to interfere with his important and responsible duties as a public officer. Private assays have considerably increased during the last 15 years, in consequence of the course of exchange producing a return of the precious metals which were exported during the war, and in consequence of the new mining operations in South America. These assays have been for the last three years again on the decline.	There are no rules or regulations existing in the King's Assay Office as to the charges for private assays. The charges are made in proportion to the King's Assayer's estimate of the value of his extra time and labour employed. The charges during the last 15 years are stated in this Return, and were considered, on a former occasion, by the "Committee on Coin" as very moderate indeed. Private assays are not only laborious, but harassing to the mind, in the anxiety to do equal justice to the parties interested. A gold ingot, for an assay of which 5 s. is charged, is of an average value of 700 l. A silver ingot, for an assay of which 2 s. 6 d. is charged, is of an average value of 200 l.

1821 -	15,410	1,997	2/	2/	1,541	- -	199	14 -	The fee to the Master's Assayer has been an usual and customary fee paid by the importers upon all gold and silver ingots brought into the Mint for coinage, and has been received and enjoyed by his predecessors in office from time immemorial. It is grounded upon the great advantage derived by the importer from the difference of the report of the assay made by him for coinage, from the report upon which the ingot has been purchased, and which arises in the following manner: The lowest assay report is 1-8th of a carat grain, equal to $7\frac{1}{2}$ troy grains in the pound weight; there is no measure or denomination below the 1-8th of a carat grain. If, therefore, it should be found, upon the assay of an ingot reported standard in the trade, that it holds two or more grains above standard, it is nevertheless called only standard; whereas in the Mint, by a combination of the ingots containing the surplus, the assayer is enabled to give the full advantage of the fineness by reporting one of the combined ingots 1-8th of a carat grain better than standard. This fee was not only recognised in the report made by Lord Maryborough to the Committee of Coin; but it is therein expressly recommended to be continued, in these words: "I am also of opinion that the fees which he (the Master's Assayer) receives from the importer upon the trial of the ingots should be continued, as by this means the interest of the individual is secured, while the King's Assayer, as a check officer, guards that of the public." Lord Maryborough's report was made an Order in Council on the 17th March 1815.

AS the Number of Pots melted in one day sometimes amounts to 30 or more, which, in many cases, would be mere repetition of the same weight, &c., it has been thought sufficient, for the purposes of this Return, to state the Number of Pots melted in each day; their aggregate Weight, and the Number of Assays, taken from the whole; three of which Assays are taken from each Pot of Silver, and two from each Pot of Gold, melted.

The usual weight of a Pot of Gold is 105 lbs. Troy, that of a Pot of Silver 420 lbs. Troy.

Note.—This Return does not include transactions between Mr. Mathison (the refiner) and private individuals previously to July 1832, because up to that period the refinery was carried on as an experimental undertaking by Mr. Mathison, with works erected at his own expense, in order that the Government might be able to take advantage of his success, without incurring any risk or responsibility.

It shows, 1st, The amount of bullion refined for Government, and the saving which has accrued in consequence. 2dly, The amount refined for the Bank and others, with the payments made to Government for the use of their works, according to the agreement made by Lord Auckland with Mr. Mathison, and sanctioned by the Treasury, in July 1832. It does not give the names of the parties or the prices charged to them, because the Mint Office takes no cognizance thereof, it being understood at the time the agreement was made that Mr. Mathison should be left free to make such arrangements as he might think fit with the Bank of England and other parties, and that such transactions should be considered as of a purely private nature.

In regard to the main object of Government, namely, to counteract the melting down of our gold coin by foreigners, for the sake of the alloy, it is computed that by its attainment an indirect saving of 10,000 l. has accrued on the amount of gold bullion refined previous to coinage since 1829.

* From this sum of 239 l. 15 s. is to be deducted such surplus of water silver as belonged to the previous years, then in a state of solution and unprecipitated, as well as a quantity of fine silver, produced from standard silver, which the Master's Assayer has always been accustomed to furnish himself with, for the purpose of maintaining the accuracy of the standard of the coin; but the amount of either of which, after the lapse of so many years, from having kept no account, he is totally unable to state. This will in some measure account for the apparent correspondence between the amount of the money received and the weight of the silver supplied, as if no loss had been sustained, which is contrary to the fact.

† It is scarcely possible, with any degree of accuracy, to determine the loss sustained in those different parts of the operation through which water silver passes before it is finally precipitated from the acid; but from the best data from which an opinion may be formed, the average loss may be stated at 25 per cent. It may be further remarked that, in consequence of the great increase of coining that has taken place in the last 15 years, consequent upon the return to a metallic currency, the quantity of water silver has been considerably more than it had previously been, or is likely to be again required.

THE Government has not received the Returns of coinage of the mints of this Republic for 1832 and 1833, nor have I succeeded in procuring them as yet from those of San Luis Potosi, Guadalajara, Zacatecas and Durango, although my correspondents have offered gratuities to obtain them.

From all these reasons your Lordship will perceive, that if the Reports I am expected to furnish to His Majesty's Government are either not forthcoming, or are not so ample and satisfactory as is desirable, it is not my fault.

so that about 25 millions of dollars, in gold and silver, equal to 5,000,000 l. sterling, has been shipped to foreign countries, although the coinage of all the mints of the Republic during the year, as your Grace will perceive by the accompanying Return, was about 12 millions of dollars, or 2,400,000 l. sterling.

A large proportion of the export, probably one-half, was for the United States, on account of the favourable state of the exchange there, arising from the discussions between the government and the banks.

The produce of the Mexican mines has evidently increased to a great extent, notwithstanding the exorbitantly high price of quicksilver, which has prevented the reduction of ores of low quality for the last two years; and the riches lately discovered in the mines of Fresnillo, and again at Zacatecas, promise a still greater augmentation of silver.

(Extract.)

Valparaiso, 6 January 1834.

WITH reference to my despatches, wherein I stated the extreme difficulty the consulate has to contend with in obtaining anything like correct information as to the metals raised in the mining districts of Chili, I have the honour to enclose an official Statement submitted by General Aldunate, Intendant of the Province of Coquimbo, to the government of Chili, of the produce of the minerals raised from the newly discovered mines, amounting in value, from the 19th of May 1832 to the 19th of April 1833, to 1,077,375 dollars net, which, at the annual current rate of exchange of 45 d. per dollar, is equal to 202,007 l. 16 s. 5 d. sterling.

General Aldunate, in submitting this Statement to his government, observes, that it is the most exact he has been able to obtain, considering the innumerable difficulties in the way of operations of such a nature, and that, placing but little reliance on official data, he has found it necessary to refer to private individuals, of integrity and intelligence, to obtain the required information.

Your Lordship will, therefore, judge how great must have been the difficulty of His Majesty's consulate in obtaining any correct information upon this subject.

Hon. John Walpole
to Visct. Palmerston,
30 October 1834.

— No. 10. —

The Honourable John Walpole to Viscount Palmerston.

My Lord,

Santiago, 30 October 1834.

I HAVE the honour to forward Statements of the amount of gold and silver coined at the mint of Santiago, from the 23d of November 1831 to the 2d of April of this year, both included, distinguishing the quantity coined on account of the Chilian government from that coined on account of private individuals, and giving the amount of each.

I have not, in spite of my exertions so to do, been able to obtain any precise information regarding the quantity of the precious metals raised from the mines of this country since the period of General Aldunate's return from the province of Coquimbo, mentioned in Mr. White's despatch of the 6th of January of this year; but I transmit, for your Lordship's information, a Return of the quantities of gold, silver and copper exported from that province during the year 1833.

This Return, although it cannot be taken, for the reasons therein assigned, as anything approaching to a correct statement of the quantity of these metals raised, may, nevertheless, serve to show the great value and the extraordinary increase in the metallic produce from the mines of that province, and of which exportations of a still larger increase are generally entertained.

I have, &c.

John Walpole,

Consul-General.

RETURN of the QUANTITIES of GOLD and SILVER BULLION and COPPER Exported from the Province of Coquimbo, in the Year 1833.

	G O L D.			S I L V E R.			B A R C O P P E R.		C O P P E R O R E S.			The items which are shown in the present statistical Account, appear only by the petitions presented by the interested persons, not including in this note Copper sent to Valparaíso from Combarbala and Yllapel, which is estimated at between 6,000 and 7,000 quintals per annum. The Gold produced in the above-mentioned departments, and in some others belonging to this Province, which is remitted to Santiago and Valparaíso, cannot be accurately ascertained, as it is very commonly exported clandestinely, and only from the month of May last, when the Custom-house seized seven-and-a-half pounds of gold bullion, have the interested persons run policies for the 4,061 castellanos, as above stated.

* See Enclosure 2 in No. 20.

No silver was coined in the year 1824, in consequence of the war.

In the coinage of silver, in consequence of the imperfection of the machinery, the dollars have not all exactly the same weight. The Spanish ordinance permits three grains difference, either over or under weight, which corresponds to about three dollars in the 100 marks, or 850 dollars. The weights are generally a little under the standard, and consequently there is a surplus in the dollars coined, which is termed feble, and which, on a coinage of three millions, amounts to about $ 9,000, or 1,800*l.*; this is considered a part of the profit belonging to the establishment.

The gross profit on coinage is as follows: 3,800 dollars on every 6,000 marks of silver, or every 51,000 dollars, from which must be deducted expenses of establishment, copper used as alloy, expenses of labour, machinery, coinage and salaries of officers; say for salaries alone 50,000 dollars; the other expenses must depend on amount of coinage; but it is calculated that not above 6 per cent. net profit on the coinage at the Mint of Lima is obtained.

Piña purchased on board at $ 9½, nets in England about 3*s.* 10*d.* to 3*s.* 10½*d.* per dollar; whereas dollars on board legally exported net 3*s.* 8*d.* or 3*s.* 8½*d.* each.

Not having been yet able to procure an accurate return of the coinage of gold at the Mint of Cuzco, I have deferred for the present making any return of gold coined at Lima, desirous of presenting the whole amount of that coinage in Peru in a complete shape.

Pure or refined silver contains 12 dwts., and the standard for coinage in Peru is 10 dwts. 20 grs., consequently standard silver contains 288 parts of pure silver and 28 parts of alloy. This is the proportion observed in all the current silver coins of Peru, which are as follows:

Dollars - - - - -	1 ounce.	Rials - - - - -	½ ounce.
Half dollars - - - - -	½ —	Half rials - - - - -	¼ —
Quarter dollars - - - - -	¼ —	Quarter rials - - - - -	⅛ —

The regulation of the Mint allows a feble or diminution or difference more or less on the above coins in the following proportions: on one dollar four grains, on the half dollar three grains, on the quarter dollar two grains, on the rials less than two grains, and on half and quarter rials one grain.

Previous to the year 1778 the proportion of alloy in all silver coins of Peru was exactly ⅓ or 8½ per cent.

At that period a secret order was received from Spain to diminish four grains on every dollar, since which period no alteration has been made.

Belford Hinton Wilson, Consul-general.

Notes.—The government archives relative to this subject at Lima and Cerro Pasco for the years left in blank are lost. In the 43,263 marcs fused at Trujillo in 1824 are included some thousands of church plate, taken for the use of the Liberating Army.

The quantity of marcs stated to have been fused in 1833 at the smelting-houses of Trujillo, Ayacucho, Puno and Arequipa is under the real amount, a corrected return for the latter months not having yet been received.

Silver smelted in Peru.

The following observations will show the nature of the duties and expense attending the conversion of plata piña (native silver) into bars or dollars :

The quality of silver in Spanish is divided into dwts. and grains, 12 dwts. being pure silver ; not, as in England, into ounces and dwts. ; the only difference being, that the Spanish is divided into 24 parts and the English into 20.

Two hundred and four marks of plata piña melted into a bar will generally give 200 marcs of the fineness of 11 dwts. 22 grains, losing about two per cent. of quicksilver or other impurities. These 200 marcs, calculated at the ley or old standard of 11 dineros, make 216 marcs $5\frac{1}{2}$ ounces, and are valued at 8 dollars 2 maravedis per marc ; they pay at the Callana or Casa de Fundicions (melting-house),

The Mint pays for the above 216 marcs $5\frac{1}{2}$ ozs. at the rate of } \$ 1,734. 7.

Eight hundred and fifty dollars weigh 100 marcs, according to ordenanza (ordinance), therefore the above $ 1,734. 7rs. weigh 204 marcs 1 ounce ; but it must be observed that they are not of the standard of 11 dineros, and only of 10 dineros 20 grains ; the standard of 11 dineros has not, in fact, been observed since 1778, although it nominally continues to be called the standard.

No gold was coined at the mint of Cuzco prior to the year 1826.

The return of gold coinage at Cuzco for the year 1833 has not, as yet, been received; but it has been thought better to forward the Return in its present though incomplete shape, lest it should be required for publication in the Parliamentary Papers of next Session.

Pure gold is 24 carats.

The standard for gold coinage in Peru is 21 carats, or 21 parts of pure gold to 3 parts of alloy.

PERU.

No. 20.

(Enclosure 1.)
Gold coined at
Lima and Cuzco,
1820 to 1833.

The mark of standard gold contains $8\frac{1}{2}$ ounces, with the weight of $15\frac{17}{100}$ dwts. each ounce, which, valued at the rate of 17 dollars or 3*l*. 8*s*. per coined ounce, gives \$ 144 4 rials, or 28 l. 18 s. the mark. But the price which the Mint pays for a mark of gold, of the fineness of 21 carats, to the introducer, is only \$ 129 $7\frac{1}{2}$ rials, or 25 l. 19*s*. 9*d*., as it deducts for Mint dues on each mark \$ 14 $4\frac{1}{2}$ rials or 2 l. 18 s., which, added to the \$ 129 $7\frac{1}{2}$ rials, complete the \$ 144 4 rials or 28 l. 18 s., its true value.

The average value of gold of 21 carats, if purchased on board, is $ 136, or 27 l. 4*s*. a mark, thereby effecting a saving in favour of the smuggler of $ 8 4 rials, or 1 l. 14*s*., besides 2 per cent. export duty on coined gold, the exportation of uncoined gold being altogether prohibited. The greater portion therefore of the gold produced in the country is smuggled out of it in the shape of bullion.

The current gold coins of Peru are as follows:

Doblon de 8 escudos	-	-	-	-	ounce	-	-	-	17	dollars.
— 4 —	-	-	-	-	half-ounce	-	-	-	$8\frac{1}{2}$	—
— 2 —	-	-	-	-	quarter-ounce	-	-	-	$4\frac{1}{4}$	—
— 1 —	-	-	-	-	eighth of an ounce	-	-	-	$2\frac{1}{8}$	—
Un peso de oro	-	-	-	-	sixteenth of an ounce	-	-	-	$1\frac{1}{16}$	—

The Peruvian Mint regulations state that every mark of standard gold shall produce, when coined, $8\frac{1}{2}$ coins of 8 escudos—to \$ 17, or 3*l*. 8*s*.

It permits a variation or feble in the following proportion: on a mark of gold 6 grains, on an ounce of gold $1\frac{1}{2}$ grain, on half an ounce 1 grain, on the 4, 2 and 1 dollar pieces three-quarters of a grain each.

The mark of pure gold is divided into 8 ounces, each ounce weighing 8 ochavas, and each ochava 16 adarmes, and the adarme 3 tomines, and each tomine 12 grains; but as each coined marc of gold produces $8\frac{1}{2}$ coins, each ounce weighs $15\frac{17}{100}$ dwts., giving therefore a difference in favour of the Mint on each mark of standard gold of half an ounce.

The above quantities of gold and platina have been coined at the Mint.

The amount of silver produced during these years by the Altai and Dauri mines, averaging above 1,000 poods per annum, and therefore amounting to 10,000 poods, is not included in the above Note, because a similar amount has been extracted from these mines in former years. It must further be remarked, that since 1834 a very considerable quantity of gold has been produced by the gold washings on the Altai Mountains.

The produce of the private mines on the Ural is included in the above Note of metals coined in the Mint.

Note.—No Monies were issued out of the Consolidated Fund for the Re-coinage of the English Silver Currency, or on account of the Gold Currency. The sums voted for the loss and expenses of the calling in and re-coinage of the Old Silver Currency, and also on account of the Gold Coinage, were issued out of the Aids and Supplies granted for the respective years. The 10th clause in the Act 56 Geo. 3, c. 68, directing the Surplus on 4s. in the pound retained for Coinage to be carried to the Consolidated Fund, has never been brought into operation, as no Proclamation has been issued allowing individuals to bring Silver to the Mint for Coinage.

In the above Return reference has been had only to the Sums which have been paid into the Consolidated Fund on account of the Profit or Seignorage derived on the Silver Coinage. The other Sums which have been paid into or issued out of the Consolidated Fund, belong to a distinct Service, in reference to the Act 39 Geo. 3, c. 94, which directs that the Fees formerly paid to the Master and Worker of the Mint for his own use, shall now be paid, after allowing for his fixed Salary, into the Exchequer.

* The present establishment of the Mint being founded on the Indenture of the 15th August 1815, which came into full effect in 1816, this Account has been made to commence on the 1st January 1816.

Note.—By the Act 9 Geo. 3, the sum of 15,000 l. is directed to be paid out of the Consolidated Fund for His Majesty's Mint, out of which 1,200 l. is to be paid for the Mint in Scotland, leaving 13,800 l. for the Mint in England. This sum is appropriated to the payment of the salaries and allowances of the several officers, clerks, and other persons in the establishment, and the surplus, together with any specific sum granted by Parliament or the Treasury for the service, with all the surplus monies accruing on the rates allowed by the Indenture for carrying on the Coinage, or from any other source of profit or return, are applied to the contingent expenses incurred in and about the service of the Mint, or making of the Monies; and the deficiency is made up from the Grants by Parliament for the extraordinary expenses of the Gold and Silver Coinage, or out of the profits accruing from the difference between the Market and Mint price of the Bullion purchased for the Silver and Copper Coinages.

The Ordinary and Extraordinary Services, being necessarily blended, no distinct account of the Expenses, in respect to each, can be rendered.

SILVER COIN.

COPIES of TREASURY MINUTES, dated 31 March and 22 April 1831, relating to the OLD SILVER COIN which has accumulated at the Bank.

COPY of TREASURY MINUTE, dated 31st March 1831.

LORD ALTHORP states to the Board that application has been made to him, from the Governor and Deputy Governor of the Bank of England, for permission to send to the Royal Mint 200,000*l.* of old silver coin, for the purpose of its being melted and returned in ingots to the bank. This sum of 200,000*l.* being a small part only of the amount of silver coin which had accumulated in the coffers of the bank.

The Governor and Deputy Governor of the bank propose, that it should be left for the future decision of their Lordships, whether any, and what allowance should be made to the bank to repay them for the loss which will fall upon them from the difference between the price of silver in bullion, and the nominal value of the silver coin of the realm.

Lord Althorp recommends to their Lordships that this application should be complied with. If the Bank of England refused to receive the silver coin of the realm in larger sums than that for which it is a legal tender, the greatest confusion would be produced in the retail trade of the Metropolis. The public have had the advantage of issuing this coin at a nominal value, considerably higher than its real value as silver bullion, and it is just therefore, on the part of the Government, to give the Bank of England the accommodation which alone is at present under consideration, namely, that of allowing the Mint to melt the coin into ingots for them, and to return to the bank the exact amount of silver bullion produced from such melting, and no more.

The question, as to whether any allowance shall be made to the Bank of England, is one which requires deep consideration; and Lord Althorp would recommend to their Lordships to reserve their opinion upon it for the present.

My Lords agree in opinion with the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and are pleased to sanction the delivery of the said coin into the Mint for the above purpose.

Write to the Master of the Mint requesting that he will receive from the Bank of England any amount of silver coin not exceeding 200,000*l.*, and that, after melting the said coin, he will cause to be delivered to the Bank of England the exact amount of silver bullion which it may produce.

Communicate to the Governor and Deputy Governor of the Bank of England the directions which my Lords have given, and acquaint them that my Lords reserve for future consideration the question whether any allowance should be made to them for the loss which they will incur from the difference between the price of silver in bullion and the nominal value of the silver coin of the realm.

COPY of TREASURY MINUTE, dated 22d April 1831.

THE Chancellor of the Exchequer states to the Board that he has received a further application from the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, for permission to send to the Royal Mint an additional sum of 400,000*l.* in old silver coin, for the purpose of its being melted and returned in ingots to the bank, upon the same terms as their Lordships were pleased to accede to on the 31st March last.

My Lords read their Minute of the 31st ult. upon the subject.

Let a similar authority be given to the Master of the Mint to receive the further sum of 400,000*l.* accordingly.

Acquaint the Governor and Deputy Governor of the Bank of England with these directions.

PAYMASTER-GENERAL.

A RETURN setting forth all RULES, ORDERS and REGULATIONS which have been issued and prescribed by the COMMISSIONERS of the TREASURY, for the government of the Office of HIS MAJESTY'S PAYMASTER-GENERAL.

(Pursuant to the Act 5 & 6 WILL. IV. c. 35.)

F. T. BARING.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
19 August 1836.

COPY of the TREASURY MINUTE of 19 August 1836, relating to the OFFICE of PAYMASTER-GENERAL.

MY LORDS have again under their consideration the Act 5 & 6 Will. IV. c. 35, by which His Majesty is empowered to consolidate into one Office the several and separate Offices of Paymaster of the Forces, Treasurer of Chelsea Hospital, Treasurer of the Navy, and Treasurer of the Ordnance, together with the Letters which have been addressed to this Board by the Lords of the Admiralty, the Master-General and Board of Ordnance, the Secretary at War, the Paymaster of the Forces, and the Commissioners of Chelsea Hospital, upon this subject, in reply to the communications addressed to those Departments thereupon.

My Lords perceive with much satisfaction from these Reports, that the leading principles upon which it appeared to this Board that the proposed consolidation should take place, have met the general concurrence of the executive Departments, and that the arrangements submitted by them for the consideration of My Lords, are such as to enable their Lordships now to proceed in establishing the regulations by which, in their opinion, the transactions of the Pay Office should be governed in its relations not only to this Board and the Exchequer, but also to the great Departments of the Navy, Army and Ordnance, and the community at large.

There can be no doubt that the business of the consolidated Offices should be carried on under one and the same roof, and as the building in which the existing Army Pay Office is established is, from its proximity to the Treasury, to the Exchequer, the Admiralty, and Ordnance and War Offices, the most conveniently situated for the public, and as by reason of the official residence of the Paymaster of the Forces having been given up, there will be ample accommodation for the purpose; My Lords are of opinion, that as soon as the Sign Manual Warrant is issued, consolidating the separate Offices into one, the buildings now occupied by the Navy Pay Office, the Ordnance Treasurer's Office, and the establishment of the Deputy Treasurer of Chelsea, should be given up, and the whole of the books, papers and documents of those Offices removed to Whitehall.

To secure the ready execution of all orders addressed to the Paymaster-General by the Admiralty, the Ordnance, the Secretary at War, the Commissioners of Chelsea Hospital, and by this Board, and in order that the whole business of the Office may be conducted with convenience, simplicity and regularity, it appears to My Lords that the Establishment should consist of Four separate Branches, of which two would be employed in making payments, one in examining the accounts and vouchers and keeping the necessary books of Account, and the fourth in superintending the whole of the department, and in conducting the correspondence, so as to ensure that all the regulations and orders which may be issued with respect to it are duly and carefully attended to.

The persons placed at the head of these several branches will be assisted by such a number of Clerks as is necessary for the discharge of the duties of the Office; and they will be severally responsible that the whole of those duties are performed in a satisfactory manner.

It is the intention of My Lords, that the two branches into which the paying department of the Office will be divided, shall each pay separate and distinct classes of service. That one branch shall pay the whole of the Effective charges of the Army, Navy and Ordnance; the other the whole of the Non-effective charges; but that no payment whatever shall be made by either until the document upon which such payment is claimed has been first examined and noted in the Accountant's branch, with whom will be deposited all authorities for making payments.

In the case of the Effective services, some of the payments will necessarily be made by way of imprest to other parties, having to account in detail for the application of such imprests to the Admiralty, the Secretary at War, and the Ordnance.

Of this class will be advances to Regimental Agents, to the Pay Clerks of the Yards for payment of ships' wages, and other disbursements of wages and charges relating to the Yards; to the Ordnance Regimental Agents for the pay of the Artillery and Engineers, besides others at various different stations, to whom advances of small sums are made upon account to be afterwards rendered.

All other payments by the Paymaster-General to individuals will be in the nature of final payments, as they will be the specific sums due to the individuals in whose favour the orders have been issued.

The accounts of the former class of payments will be rendered, as they now are, by the several Sub-Accountants, to the Secretary at War, Admiralty and Ordnance, for examination, and the amounts issued to them respectively will be admitted to the credit of the Paymaster-General, upon production to the Auditors of Public Accounts of the receipts of the parties, accompanied by the authorities upon which the imprests were made, without requiring any further or other account from him; but in issuing such orders for payment, it will be proper that the Secretary at War, the Lords of the Admiralty, and the Master-General and Board of Ordnance should, as far as may be practicable, specify on the face of the warrant or other instrument addressed to the Paymaster-General the particular head of service, as voted by Parliament, and the year for which voted, to which such imprests are to be applied. In the case of such imprests made for Army and Ordnance Services to be defrayed in this country, My Lords apprehend that there will be little difficulty in complying with this regulation; but in the Naval departments they are aware that this would not be practicable beforehand, on account of the great variety of services which are paid by the Pay Clerks at the ports out of the same imprest; and unless the Pay Clerks at the ports be authorized to apply the monies imprested to them for Naval Services generally, it would be absolutely necessary to grant imprests on account of every head of service for which they are required to make payments, whereby the balances in their hands might be unnecessarily augmented beyond the wants of the service.

In the case of all final payments, however, that is, to parties to whom the amount paid is actually due to them for service rendered or supplies furnished, and who therefore are not liable to render any further account to the Public, My Lords apprehend there will be less of difficulty, and they are desirous that, in every possible case, the particular head of service to which the payment ought to be carried should be specified on the order for payment.

In those cases in which this information cannot be furnished beforehand, My Lords desire, according to the proposition of the Accountant-General of the Navy, that abstract accounts of the application in detail of such imprests and payments, under the several heads to which the money has been applied, shall be furnished as soon as possible after the termination of each month by the Admiralty to the Paymaster-General, to be posted in his books. With respect to payments made at the Stations abroad, it will be necessary that the expenditure for Naval and for Ordnance Services should continue to be made as at present by advances from the Military Chests to the Naval and Ordnance Officers at those Stations, under the regulations now existing. Those advances will be accounted for as at present, and the amount set off in the books of the Paymaster-General, upon statements from the proper Officers of the Admiralty and Ordnance, of the separate heads of disbursement to which such advances have been applied. By these arrangements the books of the Paymaster-General will eventually be made to show, in the case of all the three great departments of expenditure, the actual charge, during each year, for each head of service voted by Parliament, an object which My Lords conceive of great importance.

The Paymaster-General will, therefore, take care that in the books of account in his office, which My Lords desire may be kept throughout on the principle of Double Entry, the several payments made by him are duly and regularly carried to their several proper heads of service, so as to enable him to show to Parliament, and to this Board, when required, the progress of the expenditure, not only in aggregate sums for Army, Navy and Ordnance Services, Effective and Non-effective, but likewise, so far as the orders received by him will do so in the first instance, and accurately in all their parts after he has received the monthly Abstracts, and Certificates adverted to, the detail of such general expenditure under the separate classes into which the Estimates are divided, and the money voted. Until he shall receive the monthly Abstracts above stated from the Accountant-General of the Navy, he will carry all imprests made by order of the Admiralty to the general head of Navy Services, Effective. In like manner all drafts upon this Board drawn by Commissaries for the supply of the Military Chests abroad should be carried to an account to be specially opened as the Military Chest account.

The orders which will be addressed to him for the payment of the Effective Services will, so far as relates to the Army, be Sign Manual Warrants of His Majesty, countersigned by this Board; upon which will be set forth the total amount granted by Parliament for each head of Effective Army Service for the year; and upon this Warrant will be founded the Orders or Warrants of the Secretary at War, issued from time to time from that department. The Warrants of the Secretary at War will be so prepared that all the several sums which may be to be received by one and the same Agent at the same time, though for different regiments, shall be set forth in one and the same Warrant, instead of the separate Warrants now in use; but care must be taken not to include in the same Warrant issues to be made for different classes of services; and the Paymaster-General will be held responsible to this Board not to issue a larger sum for any head of service for any year, upon the order of the Secretary at War, than that stated in the Sign Manual Warrant, without first obtaining the special sanction of this Board.

In the case of the Navy and Ordnance, warrants will in like manner be issued from this Board to the Paymaster-General, setting forth the sums granted by Parliament for each head of Effective service, and the Paymaster-General will take care that no larger amount is issued upon any orders received by him for Ordnance services than the amount of the specific grant for each head of service until after special report to this Board, nor, in the case of the Navy, than the aggregate amount of the several Votes for Effective Services taken together.

It will be a subject for future consideration, whether an arrangement may not satisfactorily be made for enabling the Paymaster-General to record at once, in the case of the payments made in this country for Naval Services, in the same manner as in that of the Army and Ordnance, the particular head of service to which every payment shall be carried.

No payment for any Naval service, either by way of imprest or of final payment, will be made, except upon an order signed by one of the Lords of the Admiralty, and by the Accountant-General of the Navy; nor any payment for any Ordnance service, except upon the signature of the Master-General, or of Two of the Members of the Board of Ordnance. It will rest with the Secretary at War, the Lords of the Admiralty, and the Board of Ordnance, to prescribe such forms of warrants or orders as shall appear to them respectively to be the best calculated for the particular case of each department.

All such warrants or orders must be delivered either by the parties in whose favour they are issued, or be transmitted by the department itself, to the Paymaster-General, and be noted in the Accountant's branch of his office, and be there deposited, to accompany the accounts of the Paymaster-General for the examination of the Commissioners of Audit. The parties applying for payment upon such warrants or orders, must address themselves, in the first instance, to that branch of the office, and will there be furnished with an authority to the Paymaster, by whom the service is paid, and who will make the payment either by a check on the Bank of England for the amount payable at the Bank, or by an order upon a Bank Clerk sitting at the Pay-office, who will be appointed by the Bank for that purpose, and who will upon such order pay the party in cash. My Lords will, in a future part of this Minute, point out those classes of services which will be payable in the manner last mentioned.

All subsisting general warrants of authority must therefore be delivered at the Pay-office as soon as the consolidation takes place, in order that they may be there recorded, deposited and acted upon.

The practice now in force at the Navy Pay-office with respect to allotment tickets and other orders for the payment of certain small sums on account of wages, will continue in force at the Consolidated Office. The parties will be paid the sums allotted to each at the prescribed periods, their receipts taken for such payments, and the amount be carefully set forth on the original orders under which they are paid, (which they retain), and upon the duplicates which remain with the Paymaster-General. The receipts must, however, be transmitted to the Accountant-General of the Navy, in order that he may be enabled, not only to charge the amount in his books against the several persons on whose account such advances have been made to their relatives, but also have the means of proving that fact in every case when the ships' books are made up, and the wages are paid to the seamen.

The Accountant-General, on the other hand, will furnish to the Paymaster-General a monthly abstract prepared from such receipts, to be signed by one of the Lords of the Admiralty, which will show the amount paid during the month upon such accounts, and that certificate will be admitted by the Commissioners of Audit as a voucher for such payments in the Paymaster-General's accounts.

The Navy and Ordnance Effective Services are frequently paid by means of Bills drawn by the parties who are to receive such monies on their own behalf or are to account for them thereafter.

In

In the Ordnance such bills are never drawn, except upon a distinct direction given in each case; and My Lords are therefore of opinion that for the future all such Bills should be drawn upon the Paymaster-General, and be accepted, payable at the Bank of England, due authority being given to him by the Board of Ordnance to accept, and by him to the Bank to pay, all such bills.

In the Navy, however, such bills are more generally drawn under the authority of general regulations; and as the Paymaster-General could not be apprised beforehand that the parties were duly authorized to draw the bills which might be presented to him, delay and inconvenience would be sustained by the Public if such bills were drawn upon him, because, before they could be accepted, he would have to refer in almost every case to the Admiralty.

The better course, therefore, with respect to these bills will be, that they should still be drawn, as at present, upon the Accountant-General of the Navy, and be accepted by him under the authority of the Admiralty, payable at the Bank of England, on the account of the Paymaster-General, due notice of all such acceptances being given to the Bank on the one hand, and to the Paymaster-General on the other. The bills would be vouchers to the Paymaster-General's accounts, and would be admitted as such by the Commissioners of Audit.

Payments for Army services in Ireland have been heretofore made upon the warrants of the Secretary at War, issued from time to time upon the Vice-Treasurer, who acts as Paymaster-General in that part of the United Kingdom.

Upon the receipt of such warrants, the Vice-Treasurer submits to the Lord Lieutenant a recommendation for the issue to himself, as Paymaster-General, of the exact sum set forth in the order of the Secretary at War, and upon his receipt of the Lord Lieutenant's warrant, he countersigns and transmits it to the Teller of the Exchequer, by whom the amount is transferred from the Exchequer Account in the Books of the Bank of Ireland to the separate account of the Vice-Treasurer, as Paymaster General. The Vice-Treasurer then grants his check on the Bank in favour of the party named in the warrant of the Secretary at War.

Instead of this complicated course of proceeding, My Lords desire that the warrants of the Secretary at War for payments in Ireland shall be addressed to the Paymaster-General in the same manner as for services in England, and that the sum thereby ordered to be issued shall be transferred by the Paymaster-General from his account with the Bank of England to that of the Bank of Ireland, a direction being at the same time transmitted to the Bank of Ireland to place the amount to the credit of the party named in the Secretary at War's warrant. The party in whose favour such account is raised in the books of the Bank of Ireland must be required by the Paymaster-General to deposit with the Bank of Ireland an acknowledgment that the amount has been placed to his credit in the books of that Bank, and the Bank must be requested to receive that acknowledgment, and to transmit it to the Paymaster-General before they honor any of the drafts of the party on account of the credit so raised in his favour.

My Lords will communicate with the Bank of Ireland, in order that their consent may be obtained to this arrangement.

The Master-General and Board of Ordnance having under consideration a general measure with respect to all Ordnance Services in that part of the Empire, My Lords think it will not be advisable to alter in the meantime the arrangements under which the payments are there made for such services.

The Paymaster-General will therefore continue to transfer money from time to time from his account with the Bank of England to the credit of the Bank of Ireland, upon the order of the Master-General and Board of Ordnance, on account of the Deputy Treasurer in Dublin, and the receipts of that officer, and the order of the Board of Ordnance for making such transfer, will be his vouchers.

The Deputy Treasurer must, however, render his accounts, supported by all the vouchers, monthly to the Paymaster-General, to be by him transmitted for examination to the Auditors of Public Accounts.

Payments for Naval services are made in this country at the Ports of Sheerness, Chatham, Portsmouth and Devonport, by Pay Clerks, borne on the establishments of the Treasurer of the Navy, and by the Storekeepers at Pembroke, Woolwich and Deptford Dock-yards, as well as by other Sub-Accountants, for sums of smaller amount, at the Marine Stations and Naval Hospitals. At Woolwich and Deptford Yards, other payments, besides those by the Storekeepers, are made at certain fixed intervals, and also when ships' wages are paid, by a Clerk despatched expressly for that purpose from the office in London.

My Lords are of opinion, that the Pay Clerks at Sheerness, Chatham, Portsmouth and Devonport, should be hereafter upon the establishment of the Paymaster-General, as they now are upon that of the Treasurer of the Navy, and should make the whole of these payments, except those for the Non-effective charges of the Navy, in the same manner and under like authorities as at present, and that they should be furnished with funds to make such payments under the same regulations as now exist, through the Bank of England, upon orders from the Admiralty. My Lords will prescribe the course to be taken with respect to the Non-effective charges in the future part of this Minute; but as these Pay Clerks will be on the establishment of the Paymaster-General, My Lords are of opinion, that they should transmit weekly to him an abstract, certified by the Check Clerks of the Port, and by the Captain or Admiral Superintendent, showing the amount paid by them during the week, and the balance in hand at its close.

The payments at Woolwich are, as already stated, partly for services connected with the Yard itself, and partly for wages to ships' crews, or allotments on account of wages. It appears, from the statement of the Accountant-General of the Navy, that the whole of these payments cannot be made by the Storekeeper without an undue interference with the other duties of his office; and although My Lords are desirous of avoiding what they think a very inconvenient practice, viz. that of despatching a Clerk from London to make such payments, it will nevertheless be necessary that that practice should be continued for the present with respect to all payments not immediately connected with the service of the Yard. But My Lords request the Lords of the Admiralty will consider whether an arrangement might not be made under which every payment at Woolwich might hereafter be made through the Storekeeper. In any case the whole of the payments for the Yard should at once be transferred to him, and imprests made to him of the sums required to defray such charges by order of the Lords of the Admiralty. It will be his duty, however, to attend, or to depute some one on his behalf, and for whom he will be accountable, to attend at the Pay Office, with his receipt, for the purpose of receiving such imprests from time to time.

With respect to payments at Deptford Yard, it appears that the payments for services not connected with the Yard are so few, and of such trifling amount, that there will be no difficulty in effecting them through the Storekeeper of Victualling, to whom imprests will be made in the same manner as to the Storekeeper at Woolwich.

The system now in force at Pembroke will be continued, and the imprests to the Storekeeper there will be made, as at present, through the Bank of England.

The Ordnance Sub-Accountants in Great Britain, in every case, except at the Tower, and at any other station in the immediate vicinity of London, where the personal attendance of the party will not be inconvenient to the Service, will be furnished with the funds for making the payments ordered by the Master-General and Board of Ordnance, by means of bills on the Paymaster-General, which they will be authorized to draw by the Board of Ordnance, the authority to accept such bills being at the same time given to the Paymaster-General. The payments for wages and small disbursements at the Tower should be made by an officer of the Storekeeper's establishment, as at the other stations, and imprests made to him, and to any other Storekeeper not drawing bills in person at the Pay Office from time to time for such purposes.

The whole of the monies raised for the Public Service abroad, except the small sums drawn from time to time by Captains or Purser of His Majesty's ships, are procured by means of the bills of the Commissariat Officers upon this Board, which are paid in the first instance out of Army Grants; and the wants of the Naval and Ordnance Services are supplied, as already adverted to, by imprests made by the different Commissaries from the Military Chests to the Officers of those two branches of the Public Service, re-payment from the Grants of Parliament for those services being made in this country, upon certificates from the Commissioners of Audit that such advances have been received abroad by the Naval and Ordnance Officers.

In order that the Paymaster-General may be enabled as soon as possible to make the proper transfer in his books from the Naval and Ordnance Grants, in repayment of such advances, to the credit of the account out of which the bills of the Commissaries upon this Board have been paid, it will be proper that he should be authorized by the Lords of the Admiralty, and the Board of Ordnance, to make such transfers as soon as they are satisfied that the monies have been actually advanced to their officers abroad; and further, that he should thereafter be furnished with statements, both by the Admiralty and Ordnance, showing the precise precise heads of expense as voted by Parliament, to which such advances have been applied in detail; and he will take care immediately to call the attention of this Board to the fact, if it shall at any time appear that the amounts so directed to be charged on the Naval or Ordnance Grants, in repayment of such advances, shall, together with the payments he may himself have made in this country, occasion any exceeding upon any of the Votes of Parliament.

In like manner he will report to this Board if any directions given to him by the Secretary at War to make charges on the Army Grant, in repayment of advances for Military Services abroad, shall occasion any exceeding on amount of those Grants as voted by Parliament.

In the case of the Non-effective charges for the three services, My Lords are of opinion, that the same course should be taken as in that of the grants for Effective services; and that as soon as such grants shall have been made by The House of Commons, the amount thereof should be set forth in warrants to be issued by this Board, authorizing the Paymaster-General to pay such sums as shall be ordered by the Secretary at War, the Lords of the Admiralty, the Master-General and Board of Ordnance, and the Commissioners of Chelsea Hospital, for such services within the limits of the several grants. But My Lords do not think that the order for making such payments to individuals should be given in every individual case, as is now the practice in the Naval Department.

My Lords are of opinion, on the other hand, that the practice now followed with respect to the Non-effective charges of the Army, is more simple and should be adopted with respect to all Naval and Ordnance Non-effective Services.

For this purpose, therefore, the best course will be, that in the departments of the Navy and Ordnance, Lists should be prepared and delivered to the Pay-office, signed by the proper authorities in each department, showing the names, rates, whether daily, quarterly, or annual, and all other particulars affecting the case of every individual to whom an allowance of half-pay, pension or other gratuity, in whatever form, has been granted, and that the Paymaster-General should, when those lists are once deposited with him, pay the several parties from time to time, as the several allowances become due, without any further or other authority from the Admiralty or Ordnance.

These Lists will accompany his accounts to the Commissioners of Audit, and will be the authority to that Board to admit the several payments when supported by the receipts of the parties, copies of the lists being first taken by the Paymaster General to remain for his future guidance in his own office.

All grants of Non-effective allowances made hereafter, and all changes from full to half pay, or from half to full pay, and all removals from the lists for any other cause, must be certified by the proper departments to the Paymaster-General, who will thereupon correct the copy of the lists in his possession, and from time to time transmit such orders as his authority to the Commissioners of Audit, by whom the proper entries will be made in the original lists.

It will therefore, under this regulation, be unnecessary to make annual or quarterly copies of these lists either in the War Office, Admiralty or Ordnance, and that labour will be for the future avoided; My Lords, being of opinion, that it will be sufficient for the public service if the Lists are renewed and transmitted to the Pay Office at the termination of every second or third year, as may be necessary.

On the other hand, all deaths certified to the Paymaster General must be reported before the close of the year to the Secretary at War, the Lords of the Admiralty, and the Master General and Board of Ordnance, as the case may be, and their authority received for striking the names off the list, that authority being likewise transmitted to the Commissioners of Audit. This arrangement would leave those departments, as they should be, judges of all the circumstances prior to the grant of the half pay or pension, and would devolve upon the Paymaster General, with respect to the Naval and Ordnance Non-effective services, the same duty which the Army Pay Office now performs in the case of the Army Non-effective payments, that of ascertaining that the applicant is the party entitled to the payment, and that the amount which he claims is in conformity with the order for payment.

The whole of the existing regulations by which such payments are made in the case of the Army and Navy services by means of remittance bills upon the Collectors of the Revenue, and upon the Pay Office Clerks at the Ports, and by means of bills of exchange, which the parties are authorized, upon their application to that effect, to draw for the amount of their allowances, will continue in force, and will be extended to the Ordnance department, so as to give the same facilities to all the three branches of the service. The remittance bills must, however, in future be all prepared by the Paymaster-General, be transmitted by him to the parties to whom, and to the officers by whom, payment is to be made, and must be returned to him by the Revenue departments, and by the Pay Clerks at the yards, as his vouchers with the Commissioners of Audit. In like manner all bills of exchange for this description of service must be drawn upon him, and be accepted, payable at the Bank of England, lists of all such acceptances being furnished to the Bank for the guidance of that establishment in making the payment.

The practice which for some years has been in force in the Naval department, of making these payments in the country by means of permanent remittance bills, and which has lately been introduced into the Army Pay Office, has been found to diminish labour to a great extent, while the security of the public and of the individuals has certainly not been decreased thereby; and My Lords are, therefore, of opinion, that that practice should be extended as much as possible. In order to enable the Paymaster-General to check the claims which will be made on him for repayment of advances made on the existing permanent remittance bills issued by the Admiralty, it will be necessary that a list of all such bills should be furnished to him by the Accountant General of the Navy.

With a view also to the rapid settlement of the accounts of such payments, My Lords are of opinion, that the Revenue Boards should be directed to instruct all their Collectors to transmit to them their claims for advances made on account of Half Pay, and other Non-effective charges, once in every fortnight, accompanied by the vouchers in support thereof, distinguishing the payments made for Army, Navy and Ordnance, in order that they may apply at the end of every fortnight to the Paymaster-General for repayment of all such advances. In like manner, the Paymaster-General must himself instruct the Pay Clerks at the Ports to transmit to him once a fortnight an account, supported by the receipts of the parties, of the payments made by them for Non-effective Naval services, and he will certify to the Lords of the Admiralty the amount which appears by such accounts to have been so applied out of the imprest for Naval services, in order that he may receive the directions of that Board as to the period when such amounts should be replaced to the accounts of the Pay Clerks from the grant for Non-effective Navy services.

In the case of such payments as are made in detail to individual parties from the military chests abroad for Non-effective Navy and Ordnance services, it will be proper that in future the Commissioners of Audit should transmit to the Paymaster-General detailed abstracts of the accounts of such payments, together with the vouchers taken by the Commissaries, in order, if the payments have been properly made by the Commissaries, that he may transfer the amounts in his books to the debit of the proper Grant of Parliament, and credit the account out of which the payments have been made in the Colonies.

My Lords are not prepared, at the present moment, to direct that any alteration should be made with respect to the payment of the Chelsea Out-pensions, which are effected under the direction of a separate office constituted for that sole purpose. The Greenwich Out-pensions being paid, however, by one of the Cashiers of the Navy Pay-Office, as a part of the duty of the Treasurer of the Navy, it is necessary that some alteration should be made with respect to those pensions, in order to place the future arrangements under which such payments will be accounted for upon the same footing as all other disbursements which will be made by the Paymaster-General.

My Lords are of opinion, that the payments which are now made in London should be effected in the same manner as at present, upon lists framed upon the orders issued from time to time by the Lords of the Admiralty, by whom the pensions are granted; and that the remittance bills transmitted to those pensioners who reside in the country should be likewise prepared and forwarded to those individuals under the regulations now existing, such payments in London being made in the presence of the Check Clerks, whose certificate as to the fact of the payment will be admitted by the Auditors as the Paymaster-General's voucher. The remittance bills will in like manner be signed by one of the Check Clerks. But those Check Clerks, instead of forming a branch of the Admiralty, will for the future be under the authority and direction of the Commissioners of Audit. The remittance bills paid by the Revenue Collectors must be returned to their respective Boards once in every fortnight, in the same manner as all other remittance bills for Non-effective services; and the claim made by the Revenue department must, with respect to these bills, be examined by the party who has issued the bills, and by one of the Check Clerks. On their joint certificate the Paymaster-General will transfer the amount from his account at the Bank to the account of the Receiver-General of the Revenue, instead of placing the money, as at present, to the separate account of the Cashier of Out-pensions, to be by him paid to the Receiver-General.

It does not appear necessary at the present moment to issue any further directions with respect to the Greenwich Out-pension payments; but My Lords will hereafter have the whole subject of the regulations under which these pensions and those for the Out-pensioners of Chelsea are paid under their consideration, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the two separate offices may not be consolidated, and a more simple arrangement made for the payment of both; and with a view to that object, they are of opinion that the establishment for paying the Greenwich Out-Pensioners should be considered as a separate and distinct branch of the Paymaster-General's Office.

By the regulations issued under the authority of the Exchequer Regulation Act, monthly estimates are now furnished to My Lords of the sums which will probably be demanded in the course of the month for Army, Navy and Ordnance Services. Those monthly estimates will still be delivered, prepared in the same detail as at present; but they should be furnished by the Paymaster-General for the Navy and Ordnance as well as for the Army, and be prepared by him on information supplied to him by the other departments. My Lords propose this course, because it seems to them to be proper that the Paymaster-General should have in his own office the means of knowing at any period what will be the probable amount of his demands upon this Board.

In like manner it appears to be proper, that the grant of credits upon the Exchequer out of the monies voted by Parliament, should take place upon a certificate from the Paymaster General that such credit is required, it being at the same time stated on the face of the certificate what sum is still unexpended at the Exchequer account in the Bank, on account of the last credit granted for such service.

The weekly accounts now delivered to this Board, showing the monies received on repayments and other voluntary charges, payments made from the cash account, and balances remaining at the close of the week, will be furnished in the same manner as at present.

The monies which are received upon the voluntary account of the existing pay offices of the Army, Navy and Ordnance are of considerable amount in the aggregate in the course of the year, are very numerous, and many of them are for very small sums. Under the system about to be adopted, all the larger payments, which are for repayments at home on account of advances abroad, will be discontinued, and such advances will be settled as matter of account in the books of the Paymaster-General, and of the Bank, by transfer from one account to the credit of another; but there will remain a very considerable number of cash payments to be made by parties to the Paymaster-General on account of each of the three services. No such payments are ever made by the parties from whom the money is due, except upon an order issued to them to that effect. In order to consult the convenience of all such parties, and at the same time to ensure that no confusion takes place in carrying such payments to the proper accounts in the books of the Paymaster-General, it appears to My Lords that parties having payments to make should apply at the Pay Office, and receive an authority from the Accountant of that office to make the payment to the Bank Cashier sitting there, who will receive the money on account of the Bank of England, by whom it will be placed to the credit of the Paymaster-General. The person paying the money must produce at the Pay Office the direction received by him to make such payment, so that it may be there examined, that the sum he proposes to pay is that which is due. The Bank of England will be furnished from day to day by the Paymaster-General with a statement of all sums paid at the Pay Office to the Bank Cashier attending at that office.

The Secretary at War, the Lords of the Admiralty, and the Board of Ordnance, will have to furnish lists to the Paymaster-General from time to time of the sums so directed to be paid to him, specifying the particular heads of account to which such payments are to be carried; and the Paymaster-General, on the other hand, must furnish weekly, on the first day of each week, an account to each department of the several sums received from parties at his office, and carried to his account at the Bank.

It is provided by the regulations now in force, that the cash accounts of the several Paymasters shall be always exhausted before any drafts are made on the Exchequer credit accounts; and in order to ensure that this shall at no time be lost sight of, My Lords think it will be expedient now to provide that the Paymaster for Effective services shall alone draw upon the cash account, and that the sums necessary to answer his drafts beyond the amount of that account shall be transferred thereto from time to time as they are absolutely required to be issued for the public service, upon accounts to be prepared by the Accountant, by means of orders issued by the Paymaster-General or Assistant Paymaster-General. It will, of course, be necessary that accounts shall be separately kept in the books of the Bank and in those of the Pay Office for Army, Navy and Ordnance services, and that there should be distinctly marked, on the bills accepted, or drafts drawn, the particular account on which they are to be paid by the Bank.

The same course will be taken with respect to the payments for Non-effective services, with this difference however, that checks drawn and bills accepted for such services will only be payable out of the Exchequer credit granted to defray them.

In order to afford to the Admiralty on the one hand, and to the Ordnance on the other, the fullest information as to the payments which have been made for those services, so as to enable them to prepare the accounts of expenditure which are required to be kept by the Accountant-General of the Navy, and the Clerk of the Ordnance, the Paymaster-General must transmit to each of those departments, on the first day of every week, an abstract, showing the total amount of the several payments which have been made in the preceding week, under the separate heads of service into which his accounts for Naval and Ordnance services are divided. And in addition to these regular weekly returns, he will, of course, afford all such further information as shall be required by either department. If it shall appear hereafter to be indispensable that daily accounts of payments made for Naval Services should be rendered to the Admiralty, My Lords will direct such accounts to be transmitted to that Board, but they entertain the hope that the weekly accounts now ordered will be found sufficient for the purpose for which the information is required.

No payment whatever is now made by the Army Pay Office, be the amount ever so small, except by means of a check on the Bank of England. In the Navy and Ordnance Pay Offices, on the other hand, the Cashiers draw from the Bank sums of money in cash from time to time, and such monies being deposited in chests under lock, are applied by the Cashiers in making payments, except for the larger sums, in cash to those individuals who may be desirous of being paid in that manner, rather than by a check upon the Bank. The system of making payments in this manner exists in both those departments, but in a greater degree in the Navy Pay Office. In the Ordnance it is principally confined to the payment of Salaries, Half-Pay, Pensions, and other Non-effective charges. In the Navy Pay Office, where payments are made in cash for any other service than salaries, wages, or non-effective charges, the amount is generally limited to sums not exceeding twenty-five pounds. It is no doubt true, that in some classes of payments the individuals receiving the money would be exposed to great inconvenience if paid by check upon the Bank, and in some to the danger of fraud. The cases to which My Lords particularly allude are those of seamen receiving wages or prize, the relations of seamen receiving, on allotment tickets, portions of the wages of the men, and those widows and others to whom the sum paid is of very trifling amount; and to meet these cases, it appeared to be expedient that some provision should be made under which the parties might be paid at once in cash, at the Pay Office, the sum due to each.

My Lords objecting to the system heretofore in force in this respect, under which several different parties have each had sums of money under their own separate locks deposited in the Office; and considering that a better and safer course would be, that an arrangement should be made with the Bank of England for the daily attendance of a clerk from that establishment, to be authorized by the Bank to meet such payments in cash as may be ordered by the proper officer of the Paymaster-General, and to receive payments tendered at the Pay Office by parties having to make such payments, have made an arrangement to that effect with the Governor and Company of the Bank of England. A Cashier will therefore attend daily at the Pay Office on and after the day on which the consolidation shall take place; and the Paymaster-General will instruct the Paymasters of Effective and Non-effective Services to make all payments for or on account of ship's wages, and all payments ments for or on account of the Pensions and Allowances of the widows and children of Petty Officers and Seamen, or on account of prize to Soldiers or Seamen, or their legal representatives, by means of orders on the Bank Cashier sitting in his office. All other payments must be made by check on the Bank of England, unless upon further authority from this Board.

It remains for My Lords to prescribe in what manner they think the arrangements should be carried on in future with respect to the payments made by direction of the Commissioners of Chelsea Hospital, and for Naval Prize.

Under the existing arrangement as to Naval Prize, all claims on that account are submitted to the Lords of the Admiralty; a separate account of prize funds is kept by the Treasurer of the Navy, and payments are made by him out of that fund upon the order of the Lords of the Admiralty, signed by one Lord and the Accountant-General of the Navy. My Lords are of opinion that no better course can be taken in this matter.

In the case of Chelsea payments, however, My Lords think the following course should be adopted; viz. that no payment should be made at Chelsea except the weekly payments in small sums to the In-pensioners, wages to nurses and other attendants; that to make such payments, an imprest upon account should be made from time to time by the Paymaster-General to the Agent for Chelsea Out-pensioners, upon an order to be issued for that purpose by the Commissioners of the Hospital, and that all other payments, whether for the salaries of the establishment, or the supplies furnished by contractors and others, should be made at the Pay-Office by means of checks upon the Bank of England, certified statements of the sums due to the different parties being transmitted periodically from the Commissioners of the Hospital to the Paymaster-General.

The claims of parties to Military Prize should be examined, My Lords conceive, by the Commissioners of the Hospital, under the existing regulations; and such claims being certified by them, or by some person appointed by them for the purpose, to the Paymaster-General, should be paid by him out of the Prize Fund at his account at the Bank of England, to which account such fund should be transferred as soon as the consolidation takes place.

My Lords desire that the necessary communications may be made to the Lords of the Admiralty, Master-General and Board of Ordnance, Secretary at War, Paymaster-General and Commissioners of Chelsea Hospital, and that they may be informed that My Lords propose that the consolidation shall take effect on and from the 1st of December next, whereby time will be afforded for making all the arrangements of detail which may be necessary in their respective Offices.

Transmit copies to the Paymaster-General, the Treasurer of the Navy and the Treasurer of the Ordnance, and desire that they will respectively close their accounts on 30th November next, and transfer their balances to new accounts to be opened in the books of the Bank, to be styled, "The Account of His Majesty's Paymaster-General for Army Services,"—"The Account of His Majesty's Paymaster-General for Naval Services,"—"The Account of His Majesty's Paymaster-General for Ordnance Services,"—"The Account of His Majesty's Paymaster-General for Naval Prize."

Transmit copy also to the Commissioners of Chelsea Hospital, and desire they will instruct the Treasurer of Chelsea Hospital to close his accounts on that day, and transfer the balance and stock to new accounts to be opened in the name of His Majesty's Paymaster-General.

Acquaint the Governor and Deputy-Governor of the Bank with the directions given, so far as they relate to that establishment, and request that they will consider the accounts now ordered to be opened as public accounts within the operation of the Act 4 & 5 Will. IV. cap. 15.

Transmit copy of this Minute to the Commissioners of Audit for their information.

Transmit copy also to the Vice-Treasurer for Ireland, and desire him to submit to My Lords what further directions should be given for carrying this arrangement into effect as far as relates to his Office.

PAYMASTER-GENERAL OF THE FORCES.

My Lords,

Paymaster-General's Office, 14th June 1836.

I HAVE the honour to acquaint your Lordships that the sum of 4,503 l. 13 s. 9 d. will be required to discharge the salaries of the officers, clerks, and servants in the Army Pay Office due on the 30th instant, agreeably to the inclosed statement; and it appears to me that the arrangement proposed, that the Paymaster of Civil Services should be directed by your Lordships to place such amount to the credit of my cash account at the Bank of England, as Paymaster-General of His Majesty's Forces, will be, as far as regards the above office, under present circumstances, the most convenient mode of enabling me to discharge the above claims.

I have, therefore, to request that your Lordships will be pleased to give directions to Mr. Sargent accordingly.

With regard to my department, as Treasurer of the Navy, it has been suggested that it will be better that the Admiralty should authorize the payment of the salaries as heretofore, on an understanding that the Treasury will repay the amount when demanded; and all that is requisite to be done to effect this purpose is, that your Lordships should transmit an order to the Admiralty requesting that Board to give the necessary authority; and this arrangement is the more desirable as the Navy Pay Office has establishments at the out-ports who pay themselves out of Admiralty funds.

Your Lordships will probably think it advisable to adopt a similar proceeding with regard to my office of Treasurer of the Ordnance.

I have, &c.

The Right Hon. The Lords Commissioners of
His Majesty's Treasury,
&c. &c. &c.

(signed) H. Parnell.

Copy of TREASURY MINUTE, dated 20th June 1836.

READ letter from the Paymaster-General, dated 14th instant, transmitting statement of sum required to pay the salaries of his department for the quarter ended 30th instant, amounting to the sum of 4,503 l. 13 s. 9 d. for the Army branch, and proposing arrangement for the payment of the Naval and Ordnance Branches.

My Lords concur in the proposed arrangement, as being the most convenient under the present circumstances, and are pleased to direct Mr. Sargent to place the said sum of 4,503 l. 13 s. 9 d. to the credit of the cash account of the Paymaster-General of the Forces, at the Bank of England, to enable him to discharge the salaries of the officers, clerks, and servants in the Army Pay Office, due on the 30th instant, charging the amount to the grant to be proposed to Parliament for the salaries, &c. of the "Consolidated Pay Offices."

Transmit extract of so much of this letter as relates to the department of the Treasurer of the Navy, as also so much thereof as relates to that of the Treasurer of the Ordnance, to the Secretary of the Admiralty and of the Ordnance respectively, requesting that they will move the Boards of Admiralty and Ordnance to pay the salaries and other expenses of the departments of Treasurer of the Navy and Treasurer of the Ordnance as heretofore, for the quarter ending 30th instant, and state to them that their Lordships will give directions hereafter for the repayment of the amount so advanced.

Acquaint the Paymaster-General with the directions given.

The undersigned is unable to state in what other Commissions any of the Honorary Commissioners may have been named.

None of the Stipendiary Commissioners were employed in more than one Commission, except that John Wrottesley, esq., was employed in the Boundary Commission, but without receiving any remuneration; and that several of those Commissioners acted as Assistant Commissioners in the Poor Law Inquiry, but without receiving remuneration.

Neither the secretary nor either of the clerks has been employed in more than one Commission.

The messenger has been employed as office-keeper to the Commissioners for Building New Churches, whose office is in the same house as that of the Charity Commissioners.

With respect to the places and periods of official duties and sittings, and the number of days and hours of each sitting after the commencement of duty:

The Commissioners held 35 meetings for the general purposes of the Commission, at their office, No. 13, Great George-street, Westminster, between the 18th February 1832 and the 15th August 1834. No record was kept of the hours of each sitting, but they amounted on an average to between three and four hours.

Two Commissioners being in general required to form a board for the investigation of charities under this Commission, the Stipendiary Commissioners were divided into five boards, as stated in the subjoined Table, and they held sittings either at the office in Westminster or at various stations in the several counties, where they pursued their examinations at the periods and for the number of days mentioned in the Table; the usual duration of such sittings being six hours each day.

In addition to the time employed in sittings, at least as much was occupied by each Commissioner in the country or at his own residence in completing the investigations and preparing reports.

In addition to the clerks enumerated above, it has been found necessary to engage 14 extra clerks for the despatch of business which has arisen unexpectedly, and could not be provided for from the permanent establishment; but this business will in all probability be diminished.

In consequence of the increased amount of the business of the office, some new arrangements have been made, under which the greater proportion of the persons engaged as clerks are at this time on probation; some as to their position and others as to their permanent retention. Under these circumstances, neither the salaries of the individual clerks nor their position in the establishment, sanctioned by the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, have yet been determined by the Commissioners.

The following is a list of the names of the clerks at present engaged in the office:—Mr. Arthur Moore, First Clerk; Mr. E. Adrian, T. Austin, J. W. Bicknell, R. D. W. Bond, G. W. Burrow, R. B. Cane, J. R. Carstairs, T. C. Church, C. J. Cumberland, W. Ellis, Francis Fletcher, James Fletcher, D. P. Fry, W. C. Glen, John Hanby, C. R. Howell, E. Hutchings, H. Hutchings, T. H. Jarvis, Thomas Johnston, Jenkin Jones, John Jorden, Francis Lass, P. Lawson, C. C. Lloyd, H. Lloyd, G. F. Mathew, George Mence, A. H. Montucci, H. Owen, W. H. Pemberton, F. Purdy, J. Robertson, A. Simner, Edward Sutton, C. T. Walmesley, J. H. Webb, R. West and W. Wodsworth.

While absent from London on the service of the Commission, the Assistant Commissioners are allowed a guinea a day for maintenance; and their actual expenses of travelling from place to place are repaid to them.

The place of official duties is at the houses Nos. 1 and 2, Somerset-place, which are united to form an office. The stated hours of business are from 10 in the morning until 5 in the afternoon; but the hours generally occupied are from the arrival of the post in the morning until half-past six or seven o'clock in the evening. The hours of attendance of the Commissioners at the office have not been less than seven hours each day on the average since the appointment of the Commission: they usually sit as a Board during about one-half that time. The average attendance of the secretary has been more than eight hours daily since the opening of the Commissions.

The Board sits every day except Sunday. Since the commencement of the Commission, there has been but four days' intermission, besides Christmas-day and Good Friday. Each Commissioner takes documents in the evening to his private residence for perusal and preparation. So also the secretary. The assistant-secretaries have likewise been occupied at the office during several evenings in the week, for the despatch of business.

The places of business of the Assistant Commissioners vary with each district. Where there is no parochial or other public building available for the purpose of holding meetings for the transaction of public business, a private room or some tavern is engaged for the purpose.

The hours of attendance of the Assistant Commissioners vary with each district: but in general they are engaged constantly during the whole day.

COUNTY RATES.

Number and Name of the Commissioners, Secretary, Clerks and other Persons attached to the Commission.	Places and Periods of Official Duties, &c.	Salaries and Allowances; Expenses incurred, and Amount already paid.
Mr. Serjeant Stephen, Thos. Law Hodges, esq., M.P. Chas. Shaw Lefevre, esq., M.P. Fortunatus Dwaris, esq. Mr. George Faulkner, Secretary. Mr. Thomas Alderson, Mr. Henry Pyne, Mr. John Ingersoll, Under Clerk and Messenger. Since the issuing of this Commission, on the pressure of business, Mr. William Bohun and Mr. John Merrifield have been occasionally employed as additional clerks, who are not now so employed; and portions of copying have been done by a stationer and out-door clerks, and at this moment, in consequence of the numerous returns required from and made by the magistrates in England and Wales, the Commissioners have engaged two other clerks, of the names of Mr. John Dixon and Mr. William Geddes. None of the above persons have, as it is believed, during their period of service on this Commission, been engaged on any other Commission for which payment had not ceased, as in the present case, months before the Commission terminated.	The recognized place of official duty is at 52, Lincoln's Inn Fields, where the Commissioners meet for examination and dispatch of business, and where they have had very numerous meetings; but by far the greater portion of the duty of the Commissioners and their Secretary is done at their private chambers, and, therefore, no account has been or can be kept of the number of hours in which they have been respectively engaged, but they have met at the chambers on all occasions, when the business of the Commission appeared to render the same necessary; and not a day has passed without their devoting a portion thereof to the business of the Commission; and the Clerks have, since the date of the Commission, been fully and actively employed in that business at the above mentioned office in Lincoln's Inn Fields from 10 in the morning till five in the evening.	No stipulation was made for the payment of any sum of money to the Commissioners or their Secretary at the time of their accepting office; but they were afterwards given to understand by the then Home Secretary, Mr. Goulburn, that as regards the legal Commissioners, 800 l. should be given to each of those gentlemen for the period of one year, within which time it was expected that the Commission would terminate; but they were told that if it should be extended beyond that period, the amount of remuneration for such extended time of labour would be taken into consideration. As regards the allowance promised to the Secretary, it was 600 l. for the year. The Parliamentary Commissioners declined to receive salary. The Commissioners take this opportunity to state that they would have been long ago prepared to make their Report, had they not been prevented by the omission of many public officers to make the returns called for, and which the Commissioners consider necessary; and the salaried Commissioners have already intimated to the Home Secretary that, though 16 months have elapsed since the appointment of the Commission, they intended to advance no claim for payment beyond the single sum of 800 l. above mentioned, whatever might be the duration of their labours. The expenses incurred are as follows: For Assistants, Clerks and others £. 362 13 For printing and lithography - 242 16 For short-hand writer - 64 8 For postages and incidental expenses 20 17 For stationery - - - - 62 5 2 £. 752 19 8 And 1,100 l. has been paid to the legal Commissioners and their Secretary, on account of the salaries above mentioned.

CIVIL ADMINISTRATION OF THE ARMY.

A COMMISSION, bearing date 7 December 1833, to inquire into the practicability and expediency of consolidating the different departments connected with the civil administration of the army, composed of the following members:—His Grace the Duke of Richmond, K. C.; Right hon. Lord John Russell; Right hon. Edward Ellice; Right hon. Lieutenant-General Sir James Kempt, G. C. B.; Major-General Sir Robert Lawrence Dundas, K. C. B.

The above Commission assembled at His Grace the Duke of Richmond's, on 6 December, 7 December, 12 December, 13 December, 14 December, 16 December 1833, and 20 March 1834.

The time of each sitting cannot now be given accurately, and it must be observed in reference to this Commission, that a great deal of the evidence was procured by correspondence with officers on duty, who could not be brought before the Commissioners for personal examination without expense to the public and inconvenience to the service.

RETURN of a Commission, bearing date 9 December 1835, to inquire into the practicability and expediency of consolidating the different departments connected with the civil administration of the army, composed of the following members:—The Right hon. Viscount Howick; Right hon. Lord Viscount Palmerston, G. C. B.; Right hon. Lieut.-Gen. Lord Strafford, G. C. B.; Right hon. Lord John Russell; Right hon. Sir John Cam Hobhouse, bart.; Right hon. Spring Rice.

Secretary:—Commissary-General Sir John Bisset.

Nothing has been paid on the above account; the Commissioners met 14 January, 18 February, 22 February and 12 May 1836, for about two hours each sitting, at the War-office.

London, 12 May 1836.

FRENCH AND DANISH CLAIMS.

Office of French and Danish Claims,
Whitehall-place, 14 July 1836.

Sir,
We beg leave to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of 10 February last, enclosing the copy of an address from the House of Commons, desiring that a Return in compliance with that address might be made out and transmitted to you.

In reply we have to state that the Commission was appointed by a Treasury warrant dated 23 January 1833, to adjudicate on the unsettled claims of various British subjects for losses sustained by them by the decrees of sequestration and confiscation of the French government in 1793.

That by a further Treasury minute of 31 July 1834, they were instructed to re-open the awards of the former Commissioners upon such of their decisions as had been reversed on appeal to the Privy Council.

By another Treasury minute of 29 July 1834, the Commissioners were further instructed to report on various claims of British subjects for losses sustained in Denmark and Norway by the confiscation of their book debts under the decrees of the Danish government in 1807.

And again, by a minute of 4 November 1834, this inquiry was extended to the investigation and classification of all claims for losses sustained by decrees of confiscation issued by the Danish government in 1807.

Finally, the Commissioners were instructed by a letter, dated 23d September 1835, from Mr. Baring, the Secretary to the Treasury, to adjudicate on the class of claims for losses by the confiscation of book debts.

The Commission is composed as follows ; viz.

Three Commissioners :—Joseph Phillimore, esq. D. C. L., chairman ; William Empson, esq., and Andrew Martin, esq.

Secretary :—Henry Rich, esq.

Three Clerks :—Charles L. Tudor, 120 l. ; G. J. Farrance, 100 l. ; and Henry Tudor, 84 l. per annum.

Two Messengers :—James Hughes, 80 l., and James Babbington, 80 l. per annum.

The three Commissioners and the Secretary have received no salary ; but the Treasury have made them the following grants ; viz.

The Commission sits at No. 5, Whitehall-place, and has been open from half-past 10 to 5 o'clock daily, from the 12th April 1833 until the present day (Sundays and holidays excepted).

The whole expenses of the Commission with respect to the French claims are payable out of the fund obtained from France under the conventions in 1815 and 1818. The expenses incurred with respect to the Danish claims are payable out of a grant of 113,000 l. from Parliament in the month of July 1835.

EXCISE INQUIRY.

Number and name of Commissioners.	Three : Sir Henry Parnell, bart., M. P., Henry Berens, esq., and Henry L. Wickham, esq.
Secretary - - - - -	T. Charles Harrison, esq.
Clerks - - - - -	Mr. J. Turner Powell and Mr. Thomas Cooper.
Other persons - - - - -	Mr. James Williams, junior, principal Messenger, acting also as Assistant Clerk ; Charles Allcock, Messenger, and James Williams, senior, Doorkeeper.
If employed individually in more than one Commission, in what number so employed.	Henry Berens, esq., has also acted as a Commissioner appointed by an Act of 1st & 2d W. 4, c. 125, intituled, " An Act for enabling his Majesty to direct the Issue of Exchequer Bills to a limited amount, for the purposes and in the manner therein mentioned, and for giving relief to Trinidad, British Guiana and St. Lucie."
Place of sitting - - - - -	No. 5, Whitehall-place.
Period of official duties - - -	From 10 to 4 o'clock ; but it should be stated that a great part of the important duty of drawing up Reports has been performed by the Commissioners at their own residences ; that the labours of the Secretary have from the first commencement of the Commission extended greatly beyond the usual official hours, and have rendered it necessary for him to continue in the prosecution of them until late hours, at his own residence ; and that he has also frequently been under the necessity, in like manner, of requiring the services of the Clerks till late extra hours at night.

Number of days and hours of each sitting since the commencement of duty.

It is impossible to give the exact number of days and hours of each sitting. The inquiries of the Commission commenced early in May 1833; since when the office of the Commission has been constantly open, and during the three years which have nearly elapsed, the attendance of one or more of the three members of the Board has been almost daily; and from the practice which has been pursued by the Commissioners of drawing up reports at their own residences, it may be stated that, even when not present at the office of the Commission, the attention of all the Commissioners has been constantly devoted to the objects of their inquiries. It should be added, that in the year 1833 two of the commissioners, attended by their Secretary, proceeded to the principal towns in Scotland and Ireland for the purposes of the Commission; the third Commissioner remaining in attendance at the office in London. The total number of witnesses who have been examined by them is as follows, viz. London, 303; Newcastle, 29; Edinburgh, 67; Dundee, 41; Glasgow, 65; Dublin, 96—Total 601. And they have presented the following reports, viz.

1.	On Tea Permits and Surveys	- - -	dated 26 July 1833

And a Report, dated 27 September 1833, in pursuance of a special reference from the Lords of the Treasury, upon the office of Deputy Chairman of the Board of Excise.

They have also presented two Digests, prepared by their Secretary, of the recommendations contained in each of the 16 Reports which have been presented to Parliament, and are now preparing their 19th Report on the subject of Licences, and their 20th Report upon the General Excise Establishment in the United Kingdom; both of which are in a very forward state of completion.

Salary or allowance of each officer or person.

With regard to the Commissioners, it was distinctly understood on the appointment of the Commission, that no specific salary should be allotted for the duties to be performed by them, but that the amount of compensation to be awarded to them should be submitted to Parliament. A sum of 6,000*l.* was voted for the Commissioners at the close of last Session, and has been issued to them by the Lords of the Treasury in the proportion of 2,000*l.* to each Commissioner. In like manner the amount of compensation to be granted to the Secretary has been reserved till the termination of the Commission, a sum of 250*l.* having been granted to him in each of the years 1833–34–35. The following are the allowances of the clerks and other persons employed.

Mr. Powell	- - -	£. 100 per ann.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION, SCOTLAND.

I. The Number and Names of Commissioners, Secretaries, Clerks and other Persons attached to the Commission, and if employed individually in more than one Commission, in what number so employed.

There are 11 Commissioners; viz. the Right hon. the Earl of Minto, the Hon. Mountstuart Elphinstone, James John Hope Johnstone, esq., of Annandale, M. P., Robert Bell, esq., advocate, procurator for the Church, James Mellis Nairne, esq., of Dunsinnan, Thomas Henry Lister, esq., John Shaw Stewart, esq., advocate, J. J. Reid, esq., advocate, Andrew Coventry Dick, esq., advocate, Henry Baxter, esq., of Idvies, advocate, and Edward Horsman, esq., M. P.

One Secretary:—George Logan, esq., writer to the signet.

One Permanent Clerk:—Mr. John Forbes.

One Office-keeper:—James Pringle, who acts as messenger, and as an inferior clerk.

The Commissioners, by virtue of a power conferred upon them by the Commission, to nominate not more than nine persons to assist them in their investigations, have appointed five Assistant Commissioners, each of whom in company of a Commissioner, and with his aid, and the assistance of a clerk, is to conduct the investigation of a district of parishes requiring to be visited.

The names of the assistants are as follow: Edward Maitland, esq., advocate, William Daune, esq., advocate, Thomas W. Webster, esq., advocate, Benjamin R. Bell, esq., advocate, Robert Stewart, jun., esq., of Ardvoirlich, w. s.

There are a number of clerks occasionally employed, when a press of business occurs, but they are not permanently attached to the Commission, and do not therefore come within the terms of the address.

Of the Commissioners, the Earl of Minto is First Lord Commissioner of the Admiralty, none of the other Commissioners, or of the Assistant Commissioners, or the secretary, clerk or messenger, are employed in any other Commission.

II. The Places and Periods of Official Duties and Sitzings, and the Number of Days and Hours of each Sitting since the commencement of Duty.

The Commissioners have hitherto (with a trifling exception aftermentioned) held their sittings in Edinburgh.

The Commission received the Royal subscription on the 20th day of July last, and passed the Great Seal of Scotland on the 29th day of the same month: on the 15th of August the secretary proceeded from Edinburgh to London, by desire of the Lord Advocate, to be put in communication with Lord Minto, and the other senior members of the Commission then in London, and to receive instructions; he returned to Edinburgh on the 29th day of August, and proceeded to make arrangements for the sitting of the Commissioners, who were summoned to their first meeting on the 25th day of September, when they opened the Commission, and proceeded immediately to business. From that date to the present there have intervened 118 days, exclusive of Sundays, and the Commissioners have sat during 57 of these days, for $5\frac{1}{2}$ hours each day, on an average, some of their sittings having extended to nine hours in the day, whilst others were of course of shorter duration. Exclusive of these sittings, two sets of Commissioners, having two Commissioners in each, have held sittings in rural parishes in the presbytery of Edinburgh; one sat for four days, and the other for three, at an average of hours per diem greater than that above stated. In the intervals between the sittings of the Board, the Commissioners have been engaged, with the assistance of their secretary, in forwarding the business in all its departments; they have issued upwards of 2,000 circulars; they have written upwards of 200 letters of general correspondence: they have issued about 1,200 sets of queries for returns, and they have received and examined upwards of 800 separate returns from the clergy. They have nearly completed the examination of the parishes requiring investigation within the presbytery of Edinburgh, during which they have examined, up to this date, upwards of 200 witnesses; they have prepared and issued special requisitions, on all the subjects embraced by their instructions, and arranged numerous matters of detail, which it would be tedious to specify.

The Secretary has been occupied daily since the 15th day of August, at an average of from eight to nine hours per diem.

The fixed period for the attendance of the permanent clerk, and also of the occasional clerks, is eight hours per diem.

The Messenger or Office-keeper has been in constant attendance since the opening of the Commission; he resides in the office of the Commission, and is at call at all hours.

None of the Assistant Commissioners have been as yet employed; the duty of investigating the circumstances of the parishes within the presbytery of Edinburgh having been undertaken by the Commissioners.

III. The Salaries and Allowances of each Officer and Person.

Each Commissioner is to be paid for the first six months from the opening of the Commission at Edinburgh, at the rate of 100*l.* per month, for the time during which he shall be actually employed in the business of the Commission. If the business of the Commission should not be finished in six months, the allowances to be made for the completion of the work are reserved for future consideration.

The remuneration to be allowed to the Assistant Commissioners has not been fixed.

The Secretary is to be allowed 600*l.* for the whole business to be done by him under the Commission.

The Permanent Clerk is allowed a salary at the rate of 100 guineas per annum.

The Commissioners and Assistant Commissioners, when travelling, are to be allowed 15*s.* per diem each, for personal expenses, besides their actual travelling expenses, upon accounts thereof to be kept. The clerks who travel with them are to be allowed 3*l.* per week, which is to cover both personal expenses and remuneration.

The Office-keeper is paid at the rate of 50 guineas per annum, for which he cleans and keeps the office, puts on the fires, goes all messages, affords constant attendance, and takes charge of the postages and petty disbursements, keeping books for each. This arrangement has been found to be more economical than any other that could be adopted for this purpose.

IV. Expenses already Incurred, and the Amount already Paid.

The sum already received from the Treasury, on account, is 600*l.*

The amount already expended is 629*l.* 11*s.*

General Remark.—In the office of the Commissioners, besides the ordinary number of Clerks employed, which was about 12, others were occasionally engaged, according as the press of business required.

The travelling Commissioners were allowed each a Clerk to accompany them through the parishes in respect to which they had to hold inquiries.

A number of Clerks, Scriveners and others were necessarily employed also in preparing and copying the population books of the census of 1831 of the several parishes in Ireland, which were sent to enumerators for classification, so as to enable the Commissioners to ascertain the number of the different persuasions, and to afford information respecting the several civil and ecclesiastical parishes in Ireland.

These enumerators, 1,168 in number, were paid sums varying from 3*l.* to 106*l.* 10*s.*, as awarded by the Commissioners, according to the work, labour and expenses they appear to have done and incurred.

The Commissioners have closed their sittings, and all persons attached to the Commission discharged, except the two principal Clerks, retained for the purpose of settling all demands, obtaining proper vouchers, and to prepare the accounts, in order that the Commission might be finally closed.

Public Instruction Office, Palace-street,
Dublin, 18 May 1836.

Mat. Barrington,
Secretary.

In addition to the various general duties of the Commissioners as hereinafter shortly detailed, which devolved upon them the general superintendence and arrangement of the Local Reports of the several circuits; of the Report on the corporation of the city of Dublin, and the various departments connected therewith; and the revision of all these Reports, in passing through the press, were committed by the Chief Commissioner, with assent of the other Commissioners, to Messrs. Brady & Hudson; these duties occupied a great portion of their time continually, from the 1st day of August 1834 till the 1st day of April 1836, and were exceedingly laborious.

These two Commissioners were also sent and engaged three weeks in London; Mr. Hudson, in 1834, in making arrangements for the publication of the Irish Reports in conformity with the Reports on the English Municipal Corporations, and Mr. Brady, in 1835, assisting in the completion of the General Report and the Tables connected with it.

The places of the public official sittings of the Chief Commissioners were, in Dublin, at the Commercial Buildings, Court of Appeals, Four Courts, and at the official apartments of the Secretary.

The places of public official sittings of the other Commissioners, were in the corporate towns of their respective circuits, and afterwards in Dublin, at the Commercial Buildings, Court of Appeals, and the house of the Secretary.

The other official duties of the Commissioners were discharged at their own houses, the Secretary's house, at the Birmingham, Tower, Dublin Castle, Rolls Office and Chief Remembrancer's Office, Four Courts, Auditor-general's Office, Custom House and Registry Office, Dublin.

In addition to the periods for which the Commissioners were engaged in their duties on circuit, as specified in the foregoing Table, they were occupied in Dublin on the inquiry and examination of witnesses respecting the corporation of the city of Dublin, and the several departments connected therewith, and other official business in public sittings

In the Commercial Buildings from the 8th to the 29th of October 1833.

In the Court of Appeals from the 2d to the 23d of December 1833.

In the Commercial Buildings from the 28th of December 1833 to the 11th of January 1834.

In the Court of Appeals from the 11th to the 22d of January 1834.

In the Common Pleas Chamber on the 24th of February 1834.

In the Court of Appeals from the 23d of April to the 3d of May 1834.

In the same from the 5th to the 15th of May 1834.

In the same from the 27th of May to the 5th of July 1834.

In the same from the 4th to the 19th of December 1834.

And in the same from the 12th of January to the 17th of February 1835.

The above sittings in Dublin were generally held from nine till four o'clock on each day. On the circuits the Commissioners usually sat from nine or 10 o'clock to six o'clock, and often later.

While the other Commissioners were employed on their respective circuits, the Chief Commissioner remained in Dublin, in correspondence with the other Commissioners, advising, and from time to time directing their proceedings. He also superintended the inquiry into the corporation of Dublin, part of which was carried on before him, and part before the other Commissioners under his directions.

The Commissioners occasionally met and transacted business in the official apartments of the Secretary, attended in various offices in the city of Dublin, as already mentioned, to search for and examine charters, deeds, documents and records, and procure information connected with the objects of the inquiry. They were likewise occupied at their houses in digesting and arranging the evidence taken in the various corporate towns visited, preparing the several reports thereon, and revising them in their progress through the press.

The preparation of the General Report, and of the Tables connected with it, occupied all the Commissioners for a considerable additional period.

The Commissioners did not keep any account of the hours and periods they were thus employed, and the Secretary therefore is unable to state them.

The Secretary is also, for the same reason, unable to state the exact amount of duty performed by each of the Commissioners.

The Secretary, at his office in Dublin, attended to the details and duties of his department under the direction of the Commissioners, from August 1833 to the present time.

Thomas Reilly, Secretary.

WILLIAM R.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the 57th year of the reign of his late Majesty King GEORGE the Third, intituled, "An Act to enable his Majesty to recompense the Services of Persons holding, or who have held, certain high and efficient Civil Offices," and by another Act passed in the 4th and 5th years of Our reign, intituled, "An Act to alter, amend and consolidate the Laws for regulating the Pension, Compensations and Allowances to be made to Persons in respect of their having held Civil Offices in His Majesty's Service," We are empowered, by any Warrant under Our Royal Sign Manual, countersigned by any three or more of the Commissioners of Our Treasury for the time being, to grant unto any person who shall have served for any period, not less than ten years, in any one or more of the offices of the Under Secretaries of State, or Clerk of the Ordnance, or Second Secretary to the Admiralty, a Pension during life, not exceeding 1,000*l.* per annum, and also to grant to such person a Pension not exceeding 1,000*l.* per annum, in case his service should not have been sufficient in one of those offices to entitle him to the pension of the class, provided the period of his aggregate services in that class, and in any inferior department of the public service shall amount to ten years; provided, however, that no more than six such pensions shall be in existence at the same time: And whereas there are at present in existence only four of such Pensions, viz., those granted to Robert Ward, Esq., William Hamilton, Esq., and Our trusty and well-beloved councilors, Thomas Peregrine Courtenay and Henry Hobhouse: And whereas Robert William Hay, Esq. has served as one of the Under Secretaries of State for upwards of nine years, and in other inferior departments of the civil service for upwards of ten years, making a total service of nearly twenty years, and hath certified to the Commissioners of Our Treasury that the amount of his income from other sources is so limited as to bring him within the intent and meaning of the Act above referred to: And whereas We are graciously pleased to give and grant unto him the said Robert William Hay an annuity or yearly pension of 1,000*l.*, to commence and take effect from the day when he shall cease to hold his said office of Under Secretary of State, and to be paid and payable during the period of his natural life: NOW Our will and pleasure is, and We do hereby direct, authorize and command, that you do issue and pay, or cause to be issued and paid, out of any money which now is, or which from time to time shall be in the receipt of the Exchequer of the monies composing the Fund called the Consolidated Fund, unto the said Robert W. Hay, or to such person or persons as shall by the said Robert William Hay be duly authorized and appointed to receive the same, the said annuity or yearly pension of 1,000*l.* hereby granted, to commence and take effect as aforesaid, and from thenceforth to be paid quarterly, by even and equal portions on the four most usual days of payment in the year, that is to say, the 5th day of January, the 5th day of April, the 5th day of July, and the 10th day of October, in each and every year, and without any fees or charges to be demanded or taken for the same, or any part thereof (after paying or reserving sufficient to pay all and every such sum or sums of money as hath or have been directed out of the said Fund by any former Act or Acts of Parliament, but with preference to all other payments which shall or may be hereafter charged upon and payable out of the said Fund), which said annuity or yearly pension of 1,000*l.* shall continue to be paid and payable during the natural life of the said Robert William Hay, and shall be free and clear from all taxes, rates and assessments, and other charges whatsoever, which pension nevertheless shall be suspended during the period of the said Robert William Hay holding any office, place or employment under Us, Our heirs or successors, the salary or profits whereof shall be not less than double the amount of such pension; and further, one-half of the pension hereby granted to the said Robert William Hay shall abate during the time of the said Robert William Hay continuing to hold any place, office or employment under Us, Our heirs or successors, of equal or greater amount in salary, profit or emolument than the amount of such pension. And for so doing this shall be your warrant.

Given at Our Court at St. James's, this 7th day of April 1835, in the fifth year of Our reign.

I REQUEST the favour of your Lordship to lay before The King, with my humble duty, my Resignation of the Pension of 3,000 l., granted to me by His Viscount Sidmouth, be discontinued in future from the Consolidated Fund.

Write to Lord Sidmouth, and acquaint him that my Lords have under their consideration his Letter to Lord Melbourne, of the 15th instant; and add, that they cannot give directions to carry into effect his Lordship's Resignation of the Pension granted to him for his official services, without at the same time expressing their sense of the public spirit and disinterestedness which have induced his and thus diminishing the charge upon the resources of the country.

DUKE OF MARLBOROUGH'S PENSION.

PAPERS relating to the PENSION payable to the Duke of Marlborough from the Post Office.

MEMORANDUM relating to the DUTY charged on the PENSION of the Duke of Marlborough.

ON the 2d March 1836 Mr. Hay, the Deputy Register of Land Tax at Somerset House, by direction of the Chairman of Stamps and Taxes, applied to Mr. Till, the Clerk to the Commissioners of Land Tax for the City of London, for any information which the records of his office could supply as to the charge for Land Tax on the Pension of the Duke of Marlborough. The following is a copy of Mr. Till's reply:—

“ Sir, Land Tax Office for London, 2d March 1836.

“ In reply to your question, from what period the Pension payable out of the Post Office to the Duke of Marlborough has been charged with the Duty on Pensions, &c., by the Commissioners of Land Tax for London, I beg to say, that, on reference to the Minutes of Proceedings of this Commission, I find the said Pension has been charged with Duty since the year 1760. I am unable to refer to the prior Minutes of the Commissioners, and I fear they are mislaid. I find, from an abstract of the proceedings, that in the year 1709 the amount of the Duty on Pensions payable at the Post Office was 6,080*l.*, and in the year 1710 the amount was 7,280*l.* The Post Office authorities would therefore be able to tell you what Pension caused this difference.

“ I am, Sir, your obedient Servant,

“ Mr. Hay.”

“ Richard Till,

“ Clerk to Commissioners.”

In consequence of the suggestion therein contained, the Chairman and Mr. Hay inspected the books of the Post Office, assisted by one of the Clerks in that department, from which it appeared, that in the year 1701 there was a charge of 3,390*l.* for Land Tax, at three shillings in the pound assessed on the Pensions payable out of that revenue; but there is no account preserved of the several Pensions assessed. For the years 1702 and 1703 the books were not to be found. From 1704 to 1707 inclusive, the charge on Pensions for Land Tax, at four shillings in the pound, was 5,080*l.* In 1708 the assessment so charged was 5,780*l.* at four shillings, and the following Pensions were then paid out of the Post Office revenue; viz.

Duchess of Cleveland - - - - -	4,700
Earl of Rochester - - - - -	4,000
Duke of Leeds - - - - -	3,500
Duke of Marlborough - - - - -	5,000
Duke of Queenboro' - - - - -	3,000
Lord Cowper - - - - -	4,000
Duke of Schomberg - - - - -	4,000
Guy Palmer, Esquire - - - - -	1,000
£.	29,200

The above sum of 29,200 l. at four shillings in the pound, would have produced 5,840 l., and the difference of 60*l.* cannot be accounted for.

Stamps and Taxes, }

John Wood.

Receiver General's Office, General Post Office,
March 21, 1836.

There are no accounts of the assessment or collection of the Land Tax upon payments either for Pensions or Salaries paid out of the Post Office Revenue in the

PAPERS RELATING TO THE PENSION

Receiver General's Department; the amount assessed can only be obtained by inference, by taking the Pensions payable out of the revenue which would have been liable to the Land Tax, and finding how the amount assessable upon them would agree with the assessment actually made.

By reference to the Land Tax Commissioners for the city of London, it is found that there is a memorandum of the Assessment on Pensions paid out of the Post Office,

For the year 1701, at 3 s. in the pound	- - -	3,390
— 1702, at 4 s.	- „ - - -	No entry.
— 1703, ditto	- - „ - - -	ditto.
— 1704, ditto	- - „ - - -	5,080
— 1705, ditto	- - „ - - -	5,080
— 1706, ditto	- - „ - - -	5,080
— 1707, ditto	- - „ - - -	5,080
— 1708, ditto	- - „ - - -	5,780
— 1709, ditto	- - „ - - -	5,780
— 1710, ditto	- - „ - - -	7,280
— 1711, ditto	- - „ - - -	8,080

For the year 1701, the Pensions paid out of the Post Office Revenue amounted to 22,600*l.*, the Land Tax on which, at 3*s.* in the pound, is 3,390 l.; the Assessment, 3,390 l.

The Duke of Marlborough's Pension was not then granted.

In 1704, the Pensions, including the Duke of Marlborough, 5,000*l.*, and an additional Pension to the Duke of Schomberg of 1,000*l.*, amounted to 29,400*l.*; the Tax, at 4*s.* in the pound, would be 5,880*l.*, the assessment 5,080 l.

In 1708 the Pensions amounted to 29,100*l.*; the Tax, at 4*s.*, 5,820*l.*; the Assessment, 5,780 l.

From the above it seems, that unless the Duke of Marlborough's Pension had been included, the assessment made would not have amounted to the sum that appears to have been collected, where the difference is large; but from 1708 the amounts come very near, and in 1710 appear to agree.

In 1701 there is an entry in the book in the Land Tax Commissioners' Office before mentioned, that the Post Office refused to make a Return, which may account for the difference for the first years if the Return were still withheld.

No information can be afforded that the assessment upon the Duke of Marlborough's Pension was ever discontinued.

Upon further inquiries, the following Return was prepared and furnished by the Receiver General's Office at the Post Office.

LAND TAX on POST OFFICE PENSIONS.

1720 - -	21,700	4,340	2,730
1721 - -	28,700	5,740	3,780
1722 - -	29,200	5,840	2,220

These are all the Returns which can be furnished on the subject of the Four Shillings Duty. The accounts previous to 1760 cannot be relied upon. The payments of the Pensions at the Post Office appear to have been extremely irregular, and the official documents of the Land Tax Commissioners are not forthcoming.

No order or memorial can be found at the Treasury respecting the deductions from the Duke of Marlborough's Pension previous to the accession of the present Duke to the title, since which time several memorials have been received.

THE STATEMENT of George Spencer Churchill, Duke of Marlborough, in relation to the Deductions made from the Annual Grant of FIVE THOUSAND POUNDS payable to him out of the Revenues of the GENERAL POST OFFICE.

The eminent and brilliant services of the Duke's ancestor, the brave and illustrious John Duke of Marlborough, were rewarded by the grant of an annual Payment of Five thousand Pounds, charged upon the Revenues of the Post Office, then forming part of the Revenues of the Crown, but now of the Consolidated Fund, established by 27 Geo. 3. c. 13.

The magnificent mansion of Blenheim was erected, as a national monument of high military desert, by her late Majesty Queen Anne, out of revenues exclusively applicable to her own use, and without imposing any burthen upon the people.

The grant of 5,000*l.* per annum was limited in fee tail, and is consequently inalienable from the title and the possessions of Woodstock and Blenheim; it is a memorial of royal and national gratitude, was intended for the perpetual support of those dignities and possessions, and was granted originally by her late Majesty Queen Anne, and subsequently confirmed by Parliament by an Act passed 5 Anne, c. 4, which Act provides that this annual payment shall be made without any "charges or fees," and shall not, "or any part thereof, be stopped or delayed by any order or direction whatsoever." An action at law for recovery was also given by the Act to the then Duke and his successors. Notwithstanding these provisions, deductions have been made by the officers of the Post Office from the annual payment so granted on account of the annual Land Tax, of four shillings in the pound, and for certain Duties called the Civil List and Pension Duties, of Sixpence and One Shilling in the pound, amounting altogether to the enormous sum of One thousand three hundred and Seventy-five Pounds per annum; thus reducing the annual payment of Five thousand Pounds, granted by royal and parliamentary bounty, to Three thousand six hundred and Twenty-five Pounds only, in violation of the wishes and intentions of the Crown, in contravention of the faith of Parliament, and in outrage of the then feelings of the Nation, and finally depriving the possessor of the Dukedom of the means of property upholding this dignity in Blenheim. The annual Land Tax was first granted in the reign of King William and Queen Mary. It was originally charged only upon real and personal estates, offices, perquisites and salaries; Pensions were however included by subsequent enactments.

The annual Land Tax, as regarded real estates, was made perpetual subject to redemption, in the year 1797, by the 38 Geo. 3. c. 60. but was at the same time continued on personal estates until repealed in 1834 by 3 & 4 Will. 4. c. 12. The tax upon offices, salaries, perquisites, pensions and stipends, were continued by an annual Act, which however, not being re-enacted in the last Session of Parliament, expired in the month of July last.

At the present period, therefore, the annual payment to the Duke is not subject to the reduction of four shillings in the pound.

No official documents have been discovered to prove the charge of four shillings in the pound was imposed in the lifetime of the illustrious John Duke of Marlborough, or indeed earlier than the year 1760, being two years after the accession of the present Duke's father, whose great wealth rendered any deductions from his annual income (particularly if such deductions were applicable to the exigencies of the State) matter of no serious consideration.

The last Act for imposing the four shilling Land Tax was passed 4 & 5 Will. 4. c. 11. and charges the Tax upon the same Pensions, &c. as were charged by virtue of an Act passed 38 Geo. 3. c. 5. s. 3. in which last Act is inserted a proviso which exempts from the Tax all Pensions granted by any Act or Acts of Parliament payable without deductions, and directs they shall be free of all taxes, impositions and other "charges" whatsoever; and the former Act of 4 & 5 Will. 4. c. 11, uses the word "stopped" in relation to the Duty thereby imposed. Both these Parliamentary enactments thus adopting the very language of exemption in the original Act of 5 Anne, c. 4, confirming the Pension to John Duke of Marlborough.

The Sixpenny Duty was first imposed in 1720, by 7 Geo. 1. s. 1. c. 7. upon all Salaries and Pensions payable out of the King's Civil List, and its object was, to provide part of the means of paying the interest upon a sum of money then borrowed, to make good a deficiency in such Civil List. The annual payment to the Duke of Marlborough was specially excepted from this imposition, as appears by the Journals and by the Statute itself, the grant being, in truth, no payment connected, in the remotest degree, with the Civil List.

The One Shilling Duty was imposed in 1758 upon similar Salaries and Pensions, and for similar purposes, by 31 Geo. 2. c. 22. which Act certainly contains no clause of exemption; but in consequence of which the Act was amended in the following Session by 32 Geo. 2. c. 33. in which the payment to the Duke is excepted in special terms.

Several Acts were annually passed for the imposition of all those Duties; but, upon reference to 48 Geo. 3. c. 2 (1808), which charges the whole of the three Duties of Four Shillings, Sixpence and One Shilling in the pound, it will be seen, that section 42 contains words which clearly exempt the annual payment to the Duke of Marlborough from its operation, inasmuch as it provides "that nothing therein contained shall authorize the deducting or assessing those Duties of Sixpence and One Shilling, or either of them, or the duty of Four Shillings also granted by that Act upon any yearly payment in which such yearly payments shall have been especially exempted from any or either of such Duties by any Act of Parliament," which the annual payment to the Duke had been both by 1 Geo. 1. c. 7. and 32 Geo. 2. c. 33.

At this period (1808), then, it is quite clear the annual payment to the Duke of Marlborough was payable free of all deductions; but, notwithstanding the fact was so, yet all three taxes were deducted in defiance of all right and justice. In the following year (1809), by 49 Geo. 3. c. 32. the Duties of Sixpence and One Shilling in the pound first repealed, and then re-imposed by 48 Geo. 3. c. 2, were made perpetual; but the title of the latter Act is for "CONTINUING," as well as making perpetual the several Duties of Sixpence and One Shilling in the pound granted by preceding Act of 48 Geo. 3. c. 2. and the recital conforms with the title. The words of the enacting clause have, however, been construed by the authorities of the Post Office to charge these Duties upon the payment to the Duke of Marlborough, and consequently, notwithstanding the remonstrance of the present Duke, the amount before stated has been annually deducted at the time of payment.

The annual payment to the Duke of Marlborough can never be considered in the light of a Pension granted by the Crown, and still less can it be considered as a charge emanating out of the Civil List Revenues. Eminent services had been performed by John Duke of Marlborough, and this annual payment was especially conferred upon his Grace and his successors, as the means of properly upholding Blenheim. Without, therefore, considering the legal construction of the several Statutes before alluded to in this recapitulation of facts, this large deduction of monies ought not to be made, as it diminishes the means of discharging a public duty imposed by the Crown and by Parliament.

The Land Tax of Four shillings in the pound imposed by 4 & 5 Will. 4. c. 11. has been suffered to expire (as already stated), and it is hoped, as regards the annual payment to the Duke of Marlborough, will not in justice be renewed; indeed, after the deductions now made under the official authorities presently stated, the whole of this Duty is now of very inconsiderable amount; as regards the Revenue, a strong ground of exemption arises in favour of the Duke, that at the period of 1808 the whole of the annual payment was exempted from such deductions.

It is very clear by the provisions of the 49 Geo. 3. c. 32. imposing the Sixpenny and One Shilling Duty, the several branches of the executive Government had, and still have, been invested by Parliament with full power and authority to remit those deductions of Sixpence and One Shilling in the pound, and this will will be found to have been done repeatedly in all branches of the Public Revenue, and it is hoped the Duke of Marlborough is entitled to the same consideration.

If the Four Shilling Land Tax Duty, which has been suffered to expire, should be renewed, and the annual payment to the Duke of Marlborough again included in its provisions, his Grace will be enabled to state to the Legislature the grounds upon which he considers he has ample justice for exemption, not only in consequence of the Statutes already set forth, but also by the following examples and precedents existing in the statute book:—

In the second year of his late Majesty King George the Second, an Act was passed to enable the Crown to amend the grant of 4,000 l. per annum, granted out of the Revenues of the Post Office, by extending such grant to the heirs general, instead of the heirs male, of the Duke of Schomberg.

An error prejudicial to a grant of Parliament made to his Grace the Duke of Wellington, by an Act passed 53 Geo. 3. c. 4. was rectified by another Act passed 53 Geo. 3. c. 161; the same occurrence took place in regard to the Parliamentary grant to Earl Nelson, particularly by the 55 Geo. 3. c. 96. in which an additional sum of 9,000 l. was granted to enable his Lordship's trustees to make good the beneficial intentions of the Crown and of Parliament.

The Revenues of the Tenths and First Fruits of the Clergy alienated from the Hereditary Revenues of the Crown, and called Queen Anne's Bounty, have never been subject to any or either of the Duties of Four Shillings, Sixpence or One Shilling in the pound.

The tax of Four Shillings in the pound, chargeable upon personal estates, has been totally repealed by Act of Parliament.

The Civil List Act, 1 Will. 4. c. 25. directs all payments out of the Civil List to be made free of charges for Land Tax, and the Duties of Sixpence and One Shilling in the pound.

The salaries of the Judges and other eminent functionaries of the State are now paid free of all deductions, although formerly subject to all those Duties; neither are any charges upon the Consolidated Fund (of which the Revenues of the Post Office are part) subject to those onerous taxes.

The grant to the Duke of Marlborough being limited in fee tail, and inalienable from the dignities and honours of Blenheim and Woodstock, if considered in the light of real property, has been paying for many years five shillings and sixpence in the pound Land Tax, while other real property throughout the Kingdom has been subject to the charge of four shillings in the pound only; if considered as personal property, it is exempt, under 3 & 4 Will. 4. c. 12. for repealing the Duty upon that species of the property; if considered a Civil List charge, it is exempt under the Civil List Act, 1 Will. 4. c. 25. in common with other public beneficial grants; and, finally, if considered a charge upon the Consolidated Fund (the Post Office Revenues forming part of that Fund), it ought also to be exempt in like manner with other charges payable out of that Fund.

Without any desire (far, very far otherwise) to undervalue the eminent services of his Grace the Duke of Wellington, the Earl Nelson, or the other illustrious heroes and statesmen who have been rewarded for their services to the Nation, yet surely the services of John Duke of Marlborough may be put in competition with the heroic deeds of any subject of the British Empire, ancient or modern; services mainly instrumental in firmly establishing the throne of these Realms in the present illustrious dynasty.

The Duke of Marlborough may have redress in the tedious and expensive processes of the law. He is adverse to any such appeal. His Grace prefers submitting his case candidly and fearlessly to the generous consideration of the Crown, the impartial justice of the executive Government, and the unbiassed judgment of Parliament, in the confident hope of obtaining that redress which he cannot but feel is so justly his due.

RETURN to an Order of the Honourable The House of Commons, dated 9 August 1836;—for,

A RETURN of the ITEMS of EXPENSE of £. 1,473. 16., incurred at the ELECTION of MEMBERS of THE HOUSE of COMMONS for the Counties of Orkney and Shetland, at the General Election in 1834; stating the Authority under which the Expense was incurred and paid.

THESE Expenses were incurred under the sanction of the Lord Advocate of Scotland (Sir William Rae), and paid, on his recommendation, under an authority of the Treasury, dated 10th April 1835.

The Items are shown in the inclosed Account, and the grounds of the Charge are explained in the accompanying Letters.

Whitehall, Treasury Chambers, }
12 August 1836. }

Sir,

52, Upper Brook-street, 6 April 1835,

I HAVE the honour herewith to transmit, for the consideration of the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, an application from Mr. Tytler, Crown Agent for Scotland, requesting payment of £. 1,473. 16. 2. incurred in defraying Expenses connected with the late Election for the County of Orkney. The greater part of this Sum is due for the freight of a Steam Vessel, which went to Shetland for the purpose of transmitting Notices of the days of Election, and bringing back the Poll-books to Orkney, within the period specified in the Reform Act.

As explanatory of this Charge I have to notice, that on the 3d of January I received a Letter from the Sheriff of the County, a copy of which is inclosed, requiring the aid of a Steam-boat on occasion of the then approaching Election. Observing what had taken place at the previous Election, and knowing that the chief strength of Mr. Traill, the Candidate, who was opposed to the present Government, lay in Shetland, I did not consider myself entitled to withhold the accommodation thus required. Every possible pains were taken, by application at various Ports and in sundry quarters, to contract for this Vessel at the cheapest rate, but no Steam-boat calculated to encounter such seas at that period of the year could be got at a cheaper rate than what is set forth in the Account.

On receiving from Mr. Tytler the documents now referred to, I deemed it right to send them to the Sheriff of Orkney, who is now in London, for his Report. I knew that he was well qualified to give such a Report, particularly as regarded the time during which the Vessel was required, seeing that he had sailed in it from Greenock to Orkney, from thence to Shetland and back again. His statement on the subject will be found among the Papers now sent.

You will see from the Crown Agent's Letter, that the Account is payable on the 14th of May next.

I have the honour, &c.

Sir Thomas Fremantle,
Secretary to the Treasury.

COPY of a LETTER from the Sheriff Depute of Orkney and Shetland to the Lord Advocate.

My Lord,

122, Princes-street, Edinburgh, Jan. 3, 1835.

As the dissolution of Parliament has now taken place, I feel myself under the necessity of troubling your Lordship regarding the manner in which the Election for the County of Orkney is on the present occasion to be carried into effect.

I need not mention to your Lordship the extreme difficulty of communication between Orkney and Shetland, particularly at this season of the year; and when that communication must take place within a limited time, as is necessary in the case of an Election, unless extraordinary precautions are used, I believe I may say with certainty, that the King's Writ cannot be carried into execution.

Accordingly, when the Reform Bill was under consideration, the very peculiar situation of this County was brought by me under the view of His Majesty's Government, and an extension of the time (as indeed is proved by the Rubric of § 31 of the Reform Act) for return of the Writ for Orkney, was intended to be granted; but unfortunately, by some strange omission, no such provision was made in the enacting Clause of the Statute. In these circumstances, when the last Election took place, I stated the matter to the then Lord Advocate, now Lord Jeffrey. His Lordship told me, that an error certainly had been committed, in not providing for the peculiar situation of Orkney, and which he would take care to have corrected in any Act of Parliament that might be introduced for remedying the defects in the Reform Statute, which he trusted would be done before another Election; but that in the mean while he should direct the Crown Agent to provide a Steam Vessel, for the purpose of transmitting Notices of the days of Election from Kirkwall to Lerwick, and for bringing back the Poll-books from Shetland to Orkney; this was accordingly done, and I may mention to your Lordship, that even with the aid of a powerful Steam Vessel, the Return could not be made till eight days after the close of the poll; a proceeding, I believe, thought to be of very doubtful legality, and only to be justified by necessity. It is proper that I should also notice that the precaution taken by his Lordship appears to have met with the approbation of the House of Commons, as in the Account of the Sums expended under the head of Civil Contingencies in 1833 (Parliamentary Papers, No. 186) the expense of the Steam-boat employed at the Election in Orkney and Shetland is taken credit for, and the necessary sum voted by the House.

Your Lordship is aware that matters stand precisely in the same situation now as they did at the last Election, no Statute having been passed for remedying and correcting the Reform Statute; and, therefore, that so far as Orkney is concerned, the same difficulties which then existed now occur. In these circumstances I have felt it my duty to bring the subject under your Lordship's notice, in order that that you may judge whether the same accommodation ought not to be afforded now that was done upon the former occasion, as even with it the greatest difficulty was found in making the Return within the time specified in His Majesty's Proclamation, and without it I am satisfied that it cannot be accomplished. I have only further to mention to your Lordship, that in order to afford time for adopting any measures that may be thought necessary, I have directed the Sheriff Substitute of Orkney to make the day of nomination the last day possible; viz. the 16th after the receipt of the Writ.

The Writ cannot be in Orkney before the 5th or 6th, and, therefore, if a Steam Boat is given, it will not require to be at Kirkwall till about the 20th instant.

To the Right honourable the Lord Advocate of Scotland.

I have the honour, &c.

(signed) J. A. Maconochie.

Between Sir John Scott, Knight, His Majesty's Attorney-General, Informant, James Bourdieu the Elder, Samuel Chollet and James Bourdieu the Younger, Defendants; by amended information.

London.—UPON the motion of Mr. Mitford, of counsel on behalf of His Majesty, informing the Court, that by the decree made on the hearing of this cause, bearing date the 19th December 1801, it appeared to the Court by the certificate of Abel Moysey, esq., the Deputy to His Majesty's Remembrancer of this Court, dated the same day, that there was then standing in his name in trust in this cause the sum of 181,979 l. 10 s. 3 per cent. And further informing the Court, that by the said Deputy Remembrancer's certificate, dated this day, he humbly certified that there was then in Court, in trust in this cause 181,979 l. 10 s. 3 per cent. Consolidated Bank Annuities, and the sum of 10,918 l. 15 s. 4 d. cash, being dividends which had arisen on the said Bank Annuities to the 5th July instant inclusive, he therefore prayed, that the said Deputy Remembrancer might lay out the sum of 10,918 l. 15 s. 4 d., which hath arisen and been received by him on the said sum of 181,979 l. 10 s. 3 per cent. Annuities standing in his name in trust in this cause, and also the dividends which may hereafter accrue thereon, and on the Bank Annuities to be purchased with the said sum of 10,918 l. 15 s. 4 d., when purchased, in the purchase of the like 3 per cent. Bank Annuities in trust as aforesaid, and subject to the further order of the Court. And upon reading the said decree, dated 19th December 1801, and also the said Deputy Remembrancer's certificate, dated this day, and upon hearing Mr. Cox, of counsel for the defendants, consenting thereto, it is this day ordered by the Court, by consent, that Abel Moysey, esq., the Deputy to His Majesty's Remembrancer of this Court, do forthwith lay out the said sum of 10,918 l. 15 s. 4 d. which has arisen and been received by him on the said sum of 181,979 l. 10 s. 3 per cent. Wood, for His Majesty's Attorney-General.

GEORGE R.

WHEREAS, it has been represented to Us, by the Commissioners of Our Treasury, that by a decree of Our Court of Exchequer, bearing date on the 19th day of December 1801, in a cause wherein Our Attorney-general on Our behalf, was the informant, and James Bourdieu the elder, Samuel Chollet and James Bourdieu the younger and others, were the defendants. It was declared that the 395,682 ounces, 5 pennyweights of New Mexico dollars, and 2,000 ounces of new French crowns, and 4,889 louis d'ors, in the said cause, mentioned to be deposited in the Bank of England by the said James Bourdieu the elder, Samuel Chollet and James Bourdieu the younger, or by their order, and which were remaining there on the 8th day of March 1793, belonged to Us as the goods of enemies, and that it was ordered, adjudged and decreed by our said Court that the Deputy Remembrancer of Our said Court should forthwith transfer the sum of 181,979*l.* 10*s.* 3 per cent. Consolidated Bank Annuities, in which the proceeds of the said bullion has under the order of Our said Court been invested in the name of the said Deputy Remembrancer unto such person or persons as We should nominate, direct or appoint. And it was further ordered and decreed by Our said Court, that the said Deputy Remembrancer should also pay the dividends then accrued due, and thereafter to accrue due on the said Bank Annuities, until such transfer should be made unto such person or persons as We should nominate, direct or appoint. And whereas it has been further represented to Us by Our said Commissioners that the defendants James Bourdieu the elder, Samuel Chollet and James Bourdieu the younger appealed from the said decree to the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled, pending which appeal the said James Bourdieu the elder and Samuel Chollet departed this life, and after their decease the said James Bourdieu the younger withdrew the said appeal: And whereas it has been further represented to Us by our said Commissioners, that by several orders of Our said Court the dividends on the said Bank Annuities have been invested in the purchase of like Bank Annuities, and that thereby the said sum of 181,979*l.* 10*s.* has been accumulated to the sum of 232,614*l.* 12*s.* 11*d.* 3 per cent. Consolidated Bank Annuities, which is now standing in the name of the said Deputy Remembrancer of Our said Court, and that there is now the sum of 3,140*l.* 5*s.* 11*d.* cash in the hands of the said Deputy Remembrancer, being a dividend accrued on the said Bank Annuities: And whereas Our said Commissioners upon the humble memorial of the said James Bourdieu the younger, and in consideration of the circumstances therein stated, have recommended to Us that We would be graciously pleased to grant to the said James Bourdieu the younger, assurviving partner of the said James Bourdieu the elder and Samuel Chollet deceased, the sum of 50,512*l.* 16*s.* 11*d.* sterling, to be raised out of the said Bank Annuities and cash in the name and hands of the said Deputy Remembrancer: And whereas We have been graciously pleased to comply with the said recommendation of Our said Commissioners. Our will and pleasure therefore is, and We do hereby nominate and appoint you, Henry Charles Litchfield, esq., the solicitor in and for the affairs of Our Treasury, to accept a transfer of the said Bank Annuities, and to receive the cash now remaining in the hands of the said Deputy Remembrancer, arisen from a dividend thereof; and the said Deputy Remembrancer of Our said Court, is hereby authorized and directed to transfer the said sum of 232,614*l.* 12*s.* 11*d.* 3 per cent. Consolidated Bank Annuities into your name, and to pay over the sum of 3,140*l.* 5*s.* 11*d.* cash into your hands accordingly. And Our further will and pleasure is, that when and so soon as the said Bank Annuities shall be transferred into your name, and the said monies shall be paid into your hands, you cause so much of the said Bank Annuities to be sold, as together with the said sum of 3,140*l.* 5*s.* 11*d.* shall amount to the sum of 50,512*l.* 16*s.* 11*d.*, and that you pay such sum of 50,512*l.* 16*s.* 11*d.* to the said James Bourdieu the younger surviving partner of the said James Bourdieu the elder and Samuel Chollet, deceased, or to the executors or administrators of the said James Bourdieu the younger. And that the receipt of the said James Bourdieu the younger or of his executors or administrators shall be to you a sufficient discharge for such payment. And Our further will and pleasure is, that forthwith after such sale and payment shall have been made as are hereinbefore directed, you do transfer all the residue of the said 3 per cent. Consolidated Bank Annuities into the names of the said Commissioners of Our Treasury "New Account," and for so doing this shall be your warrant, given at Our Court at St. James's, this 10th day of March 1807. In the 47th year of Our reign.

By His Majesty's Command,

H. C. Litchfield, esq., to accept a transfer of certain Bank Annuities, late the property of J. Bourdieu the elder, Samuel Chollet and J. Bourdieu the younger, and to dispose of the same.

Copy of TREASURY MINUTE, dated 10 March 1818.

READ letter from Mr. Hamilton of the 9th December 1817, enclosing one from the British Commissioners at Paris, upon the subject of the claims of British subjects on the Caisse d'Escompte, in answer to the inquiries made in the letter of this Board of the 27th November last; wherein the Commissioners state, in answer to the first inquiry, that there are entered on their lists the names of 10 British subjects, who claim as shareholders on the joint-stock of the French banking establishment, called "Caisse d'Escompte," at the time when the funds of that company were seized by the government of France; but that the mixed commission had not yet entered into the question of the liquidation of these claims; and that they have not, in consequence, come to any decision as to the amount of interest to which these claimants will be entitled in the event of their liquidation. And they transmit a list taken from the Etat de Repartition of the Caisse d'Escomptes, stating the various sums to which they are considered to be entitled by the persons appointed to liquidate the affairs of that company.

In answer to the second inquiry, the Commissioners state, that they have liquidated one claim for shares in the stock of the French West India Company; and one also for a sum of money due on bond bearing 5 per cent. interest, to Mr. Warrington, the claimant, and which sum his debtor was compelled by the law of that day to pay into the Public Treasury of France.

In the award on this last claim, the mixed commission has stated, "qu'il conviendrait de bonifier des intérêts à 5 per cent.," which has accordingly been done, and Mr. Warrington has received his stock at the stipulated medium price; but, notwithstanding, as there is no specific stipulation to this effect in the convention, these shareholders of the Caisse d'Escompte may ultimately be brought within the provisions of the 6th Article of the Convention, relative to moveable property, and be entitled only to an interest of 3 per cent.

My Lords read the entry of the letter of this Board of the 27th November last to Mr. Hamilton upon this subject.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer states to the Board that a proposition has been made on the behalf of Mr. Laffon de Ladebat, for the liquidation of this claim, upon the principle of allowing to him on the one hand the precise cost of the bullion deposited at the bank, with interest thereon, at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum, from the period from which it became productive by its investment in the year 1800, under the decree of the Court of Exchequer, until the day of the final liquidation of the claim; and on the other hand, of debiting him with the sum of 50,500 l., paid to the house of Bourdieu, Chollet & Bourdieu, in March 1807, with interest after the same rate, from the date of the said payment in March 1807, to the day of such final liquidation.

My Lords are disposed to accede to this proposition as reasonable, under all the circumstances of the case. At the same time they think it necessary, before the claim is finally liquidated, that they should receive more distinct information from the British Commissioners at Paris, as to the number and amount of the claims on the Caisse d'Escompte, which have been finally liquidated, and as to the causes which have prevented or retarded the liquidation of those specified in the list transmitted by them, and whether any objection has been raised on the part of the French authorities to the liquidation of the same, and if so, what are the grounds and nature of those objections; it appearing to their Lordships that they could not be justified in finally settling the claim of Mr. Laffon de Ladebat until all the fair claims of British subjects on the Caisse d'Escompte have been finally liquidated, or are distinctly admitted and put in a certain course of liquidation. Their Lordships would also wish to receive from the Commissioners, information as to the claims of British commercial individuals and others, in respect of moveable property or goods confiscated or sequestered by the French government, for which restitution has been made or awarded, and as to the principle upon which such restitution has been or is proposed to be made.

Sir,

Lime-street, 27 May 1818.

IN obedience to your orders, we have the honour to enclose a statement of Monsieur Laffon de Ladebat's claim on His Majesty's Government, under the Treaty concluded between His Britannic Majesty and His Most Christian Majesty, amounting to the sum of 99,331 l. 4 s. 7 d. This statement is made out in conformity formity with the principle already agreed upon and acknowledged, and is computed to the 10th of the next month of June, as supposing the first instalment to be paid on that day.

In obedience also to the orders we received from you on Friday the 22d instant, we have written to Monsieur Laffon de Ladebat, requesting his assent to the proposition made by us on his behalf, and which was, that he should agree to receive payment of the above sum of 99,331 l. 4 s. 7 d., by equal monthly instalments of 16,555 l. 4 s. 1 d., each without interest, the first instalment to be paid immediately, by a draft on the bank, clear of all fees and deductions whatever, so that the last instalment would be paid in November.

Copy of TREASURY MINUTE, dated 26 June 1818.

READ letter from Messrs. James Bourdieu & Sons of the 27th ult., enclosing a statement of Mons. Laffon de Ladebat's claim on His Majesty's Government, amounting to the sum of 99,331 l. 4*s.* 7*d.* sterling. They observe that this statement is made out in conformity with the principle already agreed upon, and is computed to the 10th instant. They state also, that in consequence of their communication with Mr. Harrison on the 22d ult., they had written to Mr. Laffon de Ladebat for his assent to the proposition made by them on his behalf, that he should agree to receive payment of the above sum of 99,331 l. 4*s.* 7*d.* by six equal monthly instalments of 16,555 l. 4*s.* 1*d.* each, without interest, but clear of all fees and deductions whatsoever, and the first instalment to be paid immediately.

Read also letter from Mr. Laffon de Ladebat, dated Paris the 28th ult., assenting to the proposition for the settlement of his claim.

My Lords read the Minute of this Board of the 10th March last, wherein the principle upon which their Lordships had acceded to the settlement of this claim is fully set forth.

My Lords read also the Minute of this Board of the 26th ult., directing a letter to be written to Mr. Hamilton, desiring he would move Viscount Castlereagh to obtain the assent of the French government to the restitution of this property to Mr. Laffon de Ladebat, and for the payment to him of the sums due in liquidation thereof, for the use and benefit of all persons that may be entitled thereto.

Read also letter from Mr. Planta of the 13th instant, transmitting copies of correspondence between His Majesty's Ambassador at Paris, and the Duke de Richelieu, wherein the Duke formally announces to Sir Charles Stuart, the consent of the French government to this payment being made to Mons. Laffon de Ladebat.

It appearing to My Lords that the statement transmitted in the said letter of Messrs. James Bourdieu & Sons, is in strict conformity with the principle agreed upon and acknowledged in the Minute of this Board of the 10th March last, their Lordships are pleased to direct Mr. Hill to pay Mr. Laffon de Ladebat, or the person or persons duly authorized by him to receive the same, the said sum out of the proceeds of the pecuniary contributions remitted from France in the following manner; viz.—

Acquaint Messrs. James Bourdieu & Sons, and also Mr. Laffon de Ladebat, with the directions my Lords have given to Mr. Hill.

Copy of TREASURY MINUTE, dated 17 February 1826.

READ letter from the Prince de Polignac, dated the 10th instant, transmitting a memorandum of the following claims preferred by Mr. de Ladebat, in respect of property sequestered by the British Government in 1793.

1. The account prepared by the Treasury states the value of the sequestered property, at	£.	s.	d.
But the sale of the property produced, according to the Decree of the Court of Exchequer of 19 December 1801, the sum of	109,000	—	—
Mr. de Ladebat therefore claims the difference between these two sums	114,108	16	4
	£.	5,108	16 4

2. Interest at 3 per cent. from 1793 to 1800, on the full sum of 114,108 l. 16 s. 4 d., the interest paid in 1818 having commenced from the year 1800 only.

3. Interest on the difference of 5,108 l. 16 s. 4 d., from 1800 to 1818.

4. Interest on the sums specified in the three preceding articles, at 3 per cent., from 1818, at which time Mr. de Ladebat ought to have received them, to the present time.

And it is stated in the memorandum, that these are the claims which the applicant appears to have under the 4th Article of the Convention of 30th May 1814, and the 6th Article of the Convention of 20th November 1815, between England and France; and that the long sufferings of Mr. Laffon de Ladebat, in being deprived by the sequestration of a property which was his only possession, and the losses which he has experienced in consequence of that measure taken by the British Government, recommend him to the justice and favourable consideration of the British Government.

My Lords resume the consideration of the several former papers upon this subject, and have before them the copy of an order of the Court of Exchequer, dated the 1st of July 1800, reciting the order made by the Court in Trinity Term, in the year 1793, calling upon Messrs. Bourdieu, the agents of Mr. de Ladebat, for a discovery of the bullion, in order that it might be condemned to His Majesty, and in which order of the 1st July 1800, it is stated that the bullion consisted of 395,682 ozs. 5 dwts. of Mexican dollars, 2,000 ozs. French crowns, 4,889 louis d'ors.

My Lords have before them a computation of the value of this bullion, according to the price of bullion, as exhibited by the tables of the course of exchange in July 1793, when the price of Mexican dollars was 4 s. 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. per ounce; the price of silver in bar, 5 s. 1 d. per ounce, standard; and the price of gold 3 l. 17 s. 6 d. per ounce, standard; and according to which prices the value of the bullion sequestered was 102,436 l. 17 s. 9 d.

My Lords read the letter of Mr. Bourdieu of the 28th January 1811, transmitting an account current of the claim of Mr. de Ladebat upon the British Government, in which it is stated that the prime cost of the said bullion was 109,000 l.

By this account, the interest of the said sum of 109,000 l. is computed at 3 per cent. from September 1800, when it became productive, in pursuance of the order of the Court of Exchequer of the 1st July 1800, and upon which computation the sum then admitted to be due to Mr. de Ladebat was paid.

From this statement it is apparent that their Lordships might, in 1818, have objected to the amount claimed by the agent of Mr. de Ladebat, as the prime cost of this bullion, since it does not appear from the market price at that time, that the value was so great as the sum claimed and admitted. But waiving any objection upon this ground, and admitting the prime cost of the bullion to be as stated by the agents of Mr. de Ladebat, my Lords cannot admit that he has any claim to the difference between the value of this bullion in 1793, when the first proceedings were taken, and its actual produce in 1800, when it was sold, consistently with the principles of the convention to which he refers; nor with the practice in the settlement of any similar claims of the subjects of England or France upon the respective Governments. It is to the restitution of the principal sum confiscated (according to its value at the time of confiscation), together with the interest thereon, at the rate fixed by the Treaty, that the claim must be confined.

With respect to the claim of interest beyond the sum allowed in the former settlement of this account, and received by the applicant, in part of the balance, for which he gave a discharge in full, my Lords are willing to allow the further claim of interest at the rate of 3 per cent. upon the sum of 109,000 l., stated by the agents of Mr. de Ladebat to be the prime cost of the bullion detained, from the period of the detention, July 1793, until the date from whence the interest was made to commence in that settlement; viz. September 1800. The period then assumed was adopted, because the property then became first available to the British Government, owing to the litigation by which the applicant and his agents had contested and postponed the sequestration of it; upon that ground my Lords would have been disposed still to insist upon the correctness of the principle of the adjustment then adopted, if the practice on either side in the liquidation of claims under the Convention, had not since admitted of a rule more favourable to the present claim of Mr. de Ladebat. Conformably to that practice, they now consent that Mr. de Ladebat shall be allowed interest at 3 per cent. upon the sum of 109,000 l., for seven years and a quarter, from July 1793 to September 1800, and which interest will amount to the sum of 23,707 l. 10 s.

With respect to the interest upon the amount of this additional interest from the year 1818, when the former settlement was made with Mr. de Ladebat, my Lords cannot entertain the application. They have now this latter claim before them for the first time, the applicant gave a receipt in full for the sum awarded to him in 1818; it is not, therefore, by any undue delay of this Board or of the British Government, that the consideration of this claim has been postponed to this time, and even now that the claim to interest for seven years and a quarter, from July 1793 to October 1800, is allowed; the grounds of the concession are derived in so great a degree from a disposition to take a liberal rather than a strict view of the subject, on the part of this Board, that my Lords would not feel warranted in granting the prayer of Mr. de Ladebat, that interest should be allowed upon this interest from the year 1818.

Let a copy of the foregoing Minute be communicated to Prince de Polignac by Mr. Herries.

My Lords read the Act of the 59 Geo. 3, c. 31, for carrying into effect the several Conventions for liquidating the claims of British subjects and others against the government of France; by the 16th section of which Act, any funds which may remain after satisfying the whole of the claims therein referred to, are placed at the disposal of this Board.

Prepare warrant directing the Commissioners of Arbitration, Liquidation and Award, to pay to Mr. Hill, of this office, out of the surplus funds in their hands, now invested in Exchequer bills, the sum of 23,707 l. 10 s., to enable him to pay the same to Mr. Laffon de Ladebat, as the interest for seven years and a quarter upon the sum of 109,000 l., the property of Mr. Laffon de Ladebat, sequestered by the British Government in the year 1793, and which interest was not allowed to Mr. de Ladebat in the year 1818, when the original settlement with him in respect of this sequestration took place.

Let Mr. Hill pay the above-mentioned sum to Mr. de Ladebat.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL against BOURDIEU.

EXTRACT from a LETTER from Mr. Villiers, His Majesty's Minister at Madrid, to M. Martinez de la Rosa, Spanish Minister for Foreign Affairs, dated Madrid, March 30, 1835.

I HAVE received instructions from my Government to communicate to your Excellency, that the additional Articles of the Quadruple Treaty having been laid before both Houses of Parliament, the period is arrived for bringing before Parliament the account of former transactions, and the Estimates of Expenses to be incurred in future for the Supplies which the Spanish Government may consider necessary.

His Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has, accordingly, conferred with the Minister of her Catholic Majesty in London, upon the mode and time of paying for these Supplies.

* * * * *

The Treasury having called upon the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs to require payment from the Spanish Government, the Duke of Wellington has proposed to suspend this demand, and to make it at some future period, when there will be less pressure upon the resources of Spain.

It has been my duty to bring the above circumstances under the cognizance of your Excellency, although I am perfectly aware that your Excellency looks upon the supply of Arms and Stores as a friendly act of assistance on the part of the King, my master; and that the Government of her Catholic Majesty has always contemplated the punctual and honourable discharge of the engagements under which these supplies have been furnished.

TRANSLATION of a LETTER from M. Martinez de la Rosa, Spanish Minister for Foreign Affairs, to Mr. Villiers, His Majesty's Minister at Madrid.

Sir,

Palace, April 1, 1835.

I HAVE submitted to her Majesty the Queen Regent the Note which you addressed to me of the date of the 30th of last month. Her Majesty has seen with pleasure that her Minister at the Court of London, in the interview which he had with the illustrious Duke of Wellington, did not hesitate in declaring the views and intentions of the Government of her Majesty as to the stipulation of the additional Articles of the Treaty of the 22d of April.

Whatever may be the close translation of the words made use of in the different versions of those documents, the Government of her Majesty had, in the solemnization of those important contracts, no other views than that of availing itself of the friendly dispositions of His Britannic Majesty, in order to procure in the speediest and most efficient manner the arms and ammunition necessary for the extinction of the civil war which unhappily afflicts some of the Provinces of the North, and for the establishment of the entire tranquillity of the Peninsula, an object so essential to the interests of the rest of Europe.

Accordingly, not having the most trifling doubt as to the Spanish Government being bound to pay for all the supplies furnished by the Cabinet of His Britannic Majesty, in virtue of the said additional Articles, I confine myself to the answer with which I am charged by the Queen Regent, that the stipulation in question is considered as a most unequivocal proof of the friendship of her august Ally. In the same manner her Majesty has seen with the greatest satisfaction a further token of the same sentiments in the communication of the illustrious Duke of Wellington, with respect to the payment of the supplies which the Cabinet of His Britannic Majesty so generously affords, in favour of the just cause which the Spanish Nation is now upholding.

I avail, &c.

(signed) Francisco Martinez de la Rosa.

Memorandum.—It is not possible to state whether the men are now actually in the service of the Queen of Spain; but this Return is prepared from the entries made in the Hospital Books, from the notifications of the individuals themselves, or from a nominal List, which has recently been furnished from the British Auxiliary Legion Office in this country. The omission of the rates of pension in the said List, however, prevents the identity of some of the parties as Pensioners being ascertained. The whole of the names are included in this Return, as, from supplementary information which has been called for, the identity of the individuals as pensioners will most probably be established.
